NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

GOV. BEAVER received $10,000 yesterday from Berlin and over $1,200 from Manheim for the Johnstown sufferers. The money was paid by the German Consul at New-York.

THE Philadelphia Record charges Senator Quay with cherishing aspirations for the Presidency in 1892. We think he will wait till 1896. The Republican party might then go farther and fare worse.

T. C. CALLICOTT emphatically denies the rumor that he is to be Gov. Hill's Private Secretary. We thought he would decline. Mr. Callicott is in the habit of turning Republican when he goes for office.

THE reduction of the public debt during July is said to be about $1,000,000. This small showing is not unusual in the first month of a fiscal year. In July, 1888, the reduction was $4,000,000, and in July, 1887, less than $5,000,000.

AMONG the awful floods in New Jersey and Pennsylvania this week only one life is reported lost. In Philadelphia yesterday afternoon three lads jumped upon a small building that was floating in the Schuylkill, and all were thrown into the water when their craft capsized. One of them, Daniel Dallon, was swept under a schooner and drowned.

POSTMASTER GENERAL RAIKES of England sent a request to Lord Mayor Sexton of Dublin for the envelope upon President Harrison's letter that had been broken open in transit. Mayor Sexton replied that he was willing to show the envelope to the Postmaster General in person, but was unwilling to commit it to the mails again, as the Postoffice Department had proved itself unworthy of trust. The Postmaster General has the floor.

THE rainfall in New York city for four days and thirteen hours, beginning at 11 o'clock last Friday night and ending at noon yesterday, was 5.45 inches. For the month of July it was 10.59 inches, and for the seven months of the present year 31.16 inches. The latter is the highest record for 20 years. For July the average for twenty years preceding 1889 was 4.23 inches. The highest record for a month was in September, 1882, when the fall was 16.85 inches.

THE effect of a Democratic administration and free trade threats upon our commerce is admirably explained by the Utica Herald in an article published elsewhere. It put the balance of trade on the wrong side in 1888 to the amount of $28,000,000. Four months of Republican administration in the present fiscal year sufficed to reduce that balance to $2,000,000. At the end of the present year the balance will be back on the right side, with a generous margin.

THE steamer City of Paris arrived at New-York yesterday after a voyage of 5 days, 23 hours and 10 minutes. This is 3 minutes behind her unequaled record in May, but is still ahead of all other vessels. She took a shorter course, traveling only 2,797 miles, which is 58 miles less than her May voyage. Up to Tuesday noon the vessel was 60 miles ahead of her fastest record, but then encountered an adverse wind and heavy rain storm, which caused her to fall behind.

THE news comes from Chicago that an English syndicate is organizing all the ballet girls into a trust, with the view of controlling the theatrical business in America. The agent of the syndicate is W. H. Morton of the Columbia theatre, and he claims to have already secured 3,000 girls for his trust. Some of them are to be paid full salaries and the others half-pay, but hereafter all managers will have to obtain the girls from the syndicate. But a half dozen weddings would break up this trust.

ALBANY had another murder last night. Two drunken ruffians named James Grace and James O'Melia engaged in a fight in a stable yard on Herkimer street, when Florence Quinlan undertook to separate them. Grace, finding himself overpowered, drew a knife and stabbed Quinlan in the groin, severing the femoral artery. The wounded man ran a few rods into the street, where he fell and bled till he was unconscious. He was then picked up and carried back to the stable, where he died in a few minutes. He leaves a wife and five children. Grace tried to escape, but was captured and locked up. All the parties to the tragedy are known as "toughs."

JOHN SHIELDS, brakeman, played a dangerous joke upon Martin Quinlan, switchman, in the Jersey City yards yesterday. Shields, who was on the top of a moving caboose, seized a bell rope and threw it at Quinlan as he stood at his switch. The rope had a noose at the end, and this accidentally lassoed Quinlan about the neck. The train was moving at the rate of seven miles an hour, and the unfortunate man was dragged an entire block before the train stopped. He saved his life by thrusting his hand between the rope and his throat. He was nearly dead from strangling and bumping over the ties when rescued, but will recover. The yard foreman threatened to discharge Shields, but Quinlan interposed in his behalf, saying he meant him no harm. But his experience was much like that of victims of lynching parties down South.

EX-UNITED STATES SENATOR ROLLINS of New Hampshire died yesterday at a summer hotel in the Isles of Shoals. Mr. Rollins was reared on a farm, and became a druggist's clerk after leaving school. In 1847 he started a drug store in Concord, and was successful. He was elected to the Legislature in 1855 and twice afterwards, and served as Speaker of the House in 1856. He was elected Representative in Congress in 1861, '63 and '65, and to the Senate in 1877. From 1868 to 1876 he was Secretary and Treasurer of the Union Pacific Railway, but resigned this position when he entered the Senate. In Congress he was distinguished for his practical sense and fondness for business methods in legislation. He was for 30 years one of the most useful leaders of the Republican party of New Hampshire. His age was 65 years.

THE CASE OF MRS. MAYBRICK.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN IN THE TOILS.

He Spent Last Night in an Ordinary Cell at Police Headquarters.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, August 1.—John L. Sullivan looked none the worse this morning after his occupancy at Police Headquarters of one of the ordinary cells there for the night. The slugger was up early and ordered a substantial breakfast. In conversation with Inspector Byrnes Sullivan remarked: "Well, if I have done anything wrong and deserve punishment, I suppose I shall have to take it. I ain't a kicking." At 9:30 Sullivan, accompanied by Inspector Byrnes, went to the District-Attorney's office. When the carriage containing Sullivan, Detective Sergeants Adams and Kiernan and Deputy Sheriff Childs, of Jackson, Miss., rolled up Chambers-street to the Court of General Sessions it was surrounded by a cheering and howling crowd. Sullivan was taken before District Attorney Fellows, and the papers upon which he was arrested were handed to that official, who having carefully read them, gave whispered instructions to one of his clerks. This individual turning to the prisoner said: "Sullivan, if you want to you can get a writ of habeas corpus provided you are willing to swear that you are not John L. Sullivan." The big fellow smiled, shifted his straw hat from one hand to the other, and said nothing. Then his backer, Charles Johnson, said they were waiting for Delancey Nicoll, who had been retained as counsel. The pugilist, with the officers and a swarm of reporters, then adjourned to the room of Assistant District Attorney Fitzgerald.

In conversation Deputy Childs said he did not think the Southern people had any feeling against Sullivan, but they want to see the law vindicated. The feeling is against the railroad authorities. He is satisfied that if Sullivan goes back without resistence he will be treated leniently and no more than a nominal fine will be imposed although the extent of the law is $1,000 fine and a year's imprisonment. He is anxious to get Sullivan back as soon as the Court meets next Monday, and the trial can go right on without delay. The Deputy said he was not afraid to take Sullivan back single-handed.

The sports present said the Deputy's talk about a light fine was all bosh. It was only a ruse to get the big fellow down to the South, when officers would do all they could to settle him.

After Delancey Nicoll arrived and had a consultation with Sullivan and his friends the case was adjourned to Supreme Court Chambers before Judge O'Brien. The crowd had greatly increased and made a rush for the Court Room. The Assistant District Attorney stated the facts in the case, when Mr. Nicoll said: "Your Honor, John L. Sullivan, for whom I appear, has not the least intention of denying his identity or taking advantage of that section of the Criminal Code in regard to waiver. I have gone over these papers carefully, both of the Governor of Mississippi and of this State, and think the case has been clearly and fully made out. I wish to say that before the arrest was made John L. Sullivan had made up his mind to go back voluntarily and surrender himself to the authorities of Mississippi, feeling confident he would be justly and fairly dealt with. When Sullivan entered into the compact of fighting 'Jake' Kilrain he understood the battle-ground would be in Louisiana, and it was not until the night before the fight that the place of fighting was changed to Mississippi, and Sullivan did not really know until at the ring side that he was in the State of Mississippi. Your Honor, he did not change the ground, and had no intention of breaking the law, but he had no alternative but to fight or become a poltroon."

Judge O'Brien thereupon ordered that Sullivan be turned over at once to Deputy Sheriff Childs. The slugger left court in custody of the officers and was driven to an up-town resort where he will remain until to-night when he will start for the South. Sullivan was loudly cheered by the vast crowd around the Court House as he departed.

RAVAGES OF "MAD" HORSE IN CHICAGO.

Two Men and Eight Horses Torn by the Teeth of the Equine.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A horse with all the symptoms of hydrophobia ran amuck on Robey-street, yesterday afternoon, and was finally killed beneath the shadow of the Moody tent at Milwaukee-avenue. No tiger of the jungle could have created more of a sensation or shown a more vicious desire to exterminate man and beast. Two men were bitten and eight horses torn by the teeth of the maddened animal. A thousand people joined in the hunt to destroy the brute. For two hours they chased up and down the streets and alleys, pursuing and pursued. Four policemen and Lieutenant Pensen joined the crowd.

Shortly after noon J. Erickson attempted to hitch his horse to his meat market wagon in front of his store. The animal was of gentle disposition, small, and without a trick or vicious habit. When the horse was led from the barn it showed signs of anger. Suddenly throwing back its ears, it sunk its teeth into Erickson's arm, and rearing, struck at his master with its fore-feet. Erickson dropped the halter and the horse chased his master into the shop. The beast put men, women and children to flight. It charged at every one it chanced to meet or overtake. In rushing after three women and several children it ran over two little girls, knocking them down, but only slightly bruising them. The others escaped, one of the women climbing a fence and the others, with the screaming children, ran up the steps and into the door of a house. When nearing North-avenue Conductor Duffy, of the North Avenue line, stepped off his car and caught hold of the animal's halter. He supposed it was simply a runaway horse. The animal made a vicious snap at him, catching his right hand with its teeth and taking out a piece of flesh. The conductor let go of the halter and jumped on the car, the horse biting and striking at him. As the horse went down Milwaukee-avenue it ran at everything it saw, and took a fancy for attacking its own kind and bit at every horse it passed. Eight of them it nipped in the side. It tore large pieces of hide from the ribs of some. Others it caught where it could, but always left the mark of its teeth. The animals thus injured in turn became demoralized and added to the excitement. The police finally drove the horse from the street to a vacant lot, where it was lassoed and shot. Conductor Duffy's hand, which was terribly torn, was immediately cauterized. He and his family are in an agony of fright as to the results that may follow. He is in great pain. Mr. Erickson called in a physician and had his wound dressed. He thinks the horse was bitten by a "mad" dog two weeks ago.

THE SEIZURE OF THE BLACK DIAMOND.

Event Caused No Excitement in San Francisco—What an Englishman Says.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Although San Francisco is the headquarters for a lot of seal hunters and whalers who scour the Northern seas every summer, the seizure of the Black Diamond has not excited much feeling here. Many of the schooners sailing from San Francisco depart with a small cargo of provisions and a load of whiskey, which, as has frequently been proved, is freely distributed among the natives, much to the latter's demoralization. The crews do not show any discrimination between the seals, killing any and all they can get at any season. One of the most prominent English residents on the coast said yesterday: "All this war sentiment comes from the residents of British Columbia and has as much effect on the Home Government as would the claim of one of its subjects to the exclusive possession of America. England recognizes the fact that the seal fisheries must be protected for its own interests as well as Americas. The Alaska seal industry, under the protection of the Alaska Commercial Company, nets a handsome revenue to England and gives employment to thousands of its laboring subjects at home. The Victoria sealers, although they send their catch to England, do not benefit the Government as does the Alaska Company. The British sealers, as well as the so-called Independent American sealers use no discretion in carrying on their hunting, and, as England knows too well, will, if permitted to continue, ruin the Northern seal fisheries in a few years." A member of the British Consulate says England is sure to stand with America in protecting the sealing business. The Alaska Fur Company, which sounded the British Representatives long since, is of the same opinion.

MORE HAVOC WROUGHT BY FLOODS.

Water in Schuylkill River Higher Than Ever Before in Twenty Years.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—The waters in the Schuylkill River have attained the highest point reached in this City in 20 years, involving destruction to property estimated at from $10,000 to $20,000. The park drives were submerged, boat-houses flooded and some of the streets near the river banks were under water to a depth of five feet. The cellars of two paper mills and about a dozen houses were flooded. The coffer dam of the new Reading Railroad bridge at the Falls of the Schuylkill was washed away, entailing a loss of $5,000. All work at Manayunk and the Pencoyd iron works opposite was stopped, owing to the encroachment of the waters. Samuel Dallas, aged 14 years, who was playing in the water, was drowned. Throughout the eastern section of the State the rain fall was very heavy. Many houses and mills were flooded and business was seriously interrupted. At Williamsport the bridges over the Susquehanna had to be ballasted with heavily-laden coal cars. A large section of the Schuylkill Valley in the vicinity of Norristown and Conshocken was entirely under water. The water in nearly all the large streams is subsiding to-day.

NO ABATEMENT IN FOREST FIRES.

Damage Near Helena, Montana, Estimated at $500,000; Smoke is Stifling.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 1.—The forest fires show no signs of abatement. From Helena west, north and south, a great black cloud of smoke hangs over the country, and for six days the sun has not been seen. The damage is estimated at $500,000. At Missoula the streets, buildings and sidewalks are covered with ashes. The air is like a blast from a furnace. The atmosphere is filled with crisp embers that have descended like a light fall of snow. It is estimated that the loss in Jefferson County from forest fires so far this season will aggregate $25,000, consisting mainly of common wood cut and prepared for market, in addition to which an immense amount of standing timber has been destroyed. The fire now raging in Boulder Canon, near Bernice, has been most destructive of property. The larger part of the cordwood consumed in this blaze was contracted to the Anaconda smelter. In the neighborhood of the great mining camp of Philipsbury the damage has been immense, while the town of Granite is in imminent danger of being destroyed. The mountains about the City are all ablaze, and the heat and stifling smoke are almost unbearable.

STILL PARLEYING WITH THE INDIANS.

General Crook's Speech the "Hit" of the Week—Polls Opened.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

STANDING ROCK AGENCY, Dak., Aug. 1.—At Tuesday night's council of the Indians there were many interesting speeches and many exciting scenes. John Grass repeated to the Indians the statement made by him to the Commissioners regarding the promise to pay Red Cloud $28,000 for ponies. He warned the Indians against being used as tools in the interest of Red Cloud or the Government, and expressed the belief that if the Indians at this agency stood firm the reservation would not be opened. At the Council yesterday the Indians were informed that no more meetings for the explanation of the treaty would be held. John Grass repeated his objections, chief among which is the price offered. Major Warner replied to Grass, answering his objections and complimenting him and his Indians on the progress they have made in agriculture and civilization. The Major made a most telling speech to the Reds, for he met every objection and explained the provisions of the treaty of 1868, which the Government is charged with violating.

General Crook said: "I have already intimated that unless you accept the treaty this land may be taken from you anyway. My reasons for thinking so are as follows: Dakota, Montana and Washington Territory have only one representative each in Congress, and do not have a vote. Thus in the past the cries of Dakota for the opening of this reservation have had little weight, but after October next they will be states, and will have four Senators and eight Representatives, and then when they ask that these reservations be opened, the Red Man's voice will be small and he will be crowded to one side. I assure you that you are getting the best terms that will ever be offered you, and unless you accept you will not get more than you were offered a year ago. The Great Father does not want to deal with the Chiefs alone. He wants every Indian on the reservation to express his desire that they may be granted. You are the equal of the whites mentally and physically, and there is no reason why you should not be placed on equal footing if you continue to progress. You must provide for the future. You love your families and you want to know what will become of them when you are gone. If you accept this treaty and take your land like the whites, it can never be taken from you and will be your children's when you die. You will see that the Government is your friend.

The General's speech was the hit of the week. The rolls for signatures will be opened this morning.

A CONDITION---NOT A THEORY.

Scene: Large excursion barge on the Hudson River! Many loving couples, some very spooney. Especially noticeable was one pair, Reginald Deepinlove and Arabella Sameway. After admiring the magnificent landscape and annihilating several pounds of bon-bons, Arabella lifted her loving eyes to her lover and uttered in plaintive tones: "Reginald do you really love me?" The young man almost fell fainting on the hard unpainted floor of the boat and exclaimed: "Arabella, my own, my dearest! I love you with all my heart; when can I call you mine?" Arabella, overcome by emotion and bon-bons, could only stammer: "When— when— you take me to the Hudson River Furniture Company's store to purchase a set of handsome Antique Oak bed-room suits that I saw there a few days ago."

Scene: One day later—Two very happy people examining Antique Oak furniture at Hudson River Furniture Company's warerooms.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

Gov. BEAVER received $10,000 yesterday from Berlin and over $1,200 from Manheim for the Johnstown sufferers. The money was paid by the German Consul at New-York.

THE Philadelphia Record charges Senator Quay with cherishing aspirations for the Presidency in 1892. We think he will wait till 1896. The Republican party might then go farther and fare worse.

T. C. CALLICOTT emphatically denies the rumor that he is to be Gov. Hill's Private Secretary. We thought he would decline. Mr. Callicott is in the habit of turning Republican when he goes for office.

THE reduction of the public debt during July is said to be about $1,000,000. This small showing is not unusual in the first month of a fiscal year. In July, 1888, the reduction was $4,000,000, and in July, 1887, less than $5,000,000.

AMONG the awful floods in New Jersey and Pennsylvania this week only one life is reported lost. In Philadelphia yesterday afternoon three lads jumped upon a small building that was floating in the Schuylkill, and all were thrown into the water when their craft capsized. One of them, Daniel Dallon, was swept under a schooner and drowned.

POSTMASTER GENERAL RAIKES of England sent a request to Lord Mayor Sexton of Dublin for the envelope upon President Harrison's letter that had been broken open in transit. Mayor Sexton replied that he was willing to show the envelope to the Postmaster General in person, but was unwilling to commit it to the mails again, as the Postoffice Department had proved itself unworthy of trust. The Postmaster General has the floor.

THE rainfall in New York city for four days and thirteen hours, beginning at 11 o'clock last Friday night and ending at noon yesterday, was 5.45 inches. For the month of July it was 10 59 inches, and for the seven months of the present year 31.16 inches. The latter is the highest record for 20 years. For July the average for twenty years preceding 1889 was 4.23 inches. The highest record for a month was in September, 1882, when the fall was 16.85 inches.

THE effect of a Democratic administration and free trade threats upon our commerce is admirably explained by the Utica Herald in an article published elsewhere. It put the balance of trade on the wrong side in 1888 to the amount of $28,000,000. Four months of Republican administration in the present fiscal year sufficed to reduce that balance to $2,000,000. At the end of the present year the balance will be back on the right side, with a generous margin.

THE steamer City of Paris arrived at New-York yesterday after a voyage of 5 days, 23 hours and 10 minutes. This is 3 minutes behind her unequaled record in May, but is still ahead of all other vessels. She took a shorter course, traveling only 2,797 miles, which is 58 miles less than her May voyage. Up to Tuesday noon the vessel was 60 miles ahead of her fastest record, but then encountered an adverse wind and heavy rain storm, which caused her to fall behind.

THE news comes from Chicago that an English syndicate is organizing all the ballet girls into a trust, with the view of controlling the theatrical business in America. The agent of the syndicate is W. H. Morton of the Columbia theatre, and he claims to have already secured 3,000 girls for his trust. Some of them are to be paid full salaries and the others half-pay, but hereafter all managers will have to obtain the girls from the syndicate. But a half dozen weddings would break up this trust.

ALBANY had another murder last night. Two drunken ruffians named James Grace and James O'Melia engaged in a fight in a stable yard on Herkimer street, when Florence Quinlan undertook to separate them. Grace, finding himself overpowered, drew a knife and stabbed Quinlan in the groin, severing the femoral artery. The wounded man ran a few rods into the street, where he fell and bled till he was unconscious. He was then picked up and carried back to the stable, where he died in a few minutes. He leaves a wife and five children. Grace tried to escape, but was captured and locked up. All the parties to the tragedy are known as "toughs."

JOHN SHIELDS, brakeman, played a dangerous joke upon Martin Quinlan, switchman, in the Jersey City yards yesterday. Shields, who was on the top of a moving caboose, seized a bell rope and threw it at Quinlan as he stood at his switch. The rope had a noose at the end, and this accidentally lassoed Quinlan about the neck. The train was moving at the rate of seven miles an hour, and the unfortunate man was dragged an entire block before the train stopped. He saved his life by thrusting his hand between the rope and his throat. He was nearly dead from strangling and bumping over the ties when rescued, but will recover. The yard foreman threatened to discharge Shields, but Quinlan interposed in his behalf, saying he meant him no harm. But his experience was much like that of victims of lynching parties down South.

EX-UNITED STATES SENATOR ROLLINS of New Hampshire died yesterday at a summer hotel in the Isles of Shoals. Mr. Rollins was reared on a farm, and became a druggist's clerk after leaving school. In 1847 he started a drug store in Concord, and was successful. He was elected to the Legislature in 1855 and twice afterwards, and served as Speaker of the House in 1856. He was elected Representative in Congress in 1861, '63 and '65, and to the Senate in 1877. From 1868 to 1876 he was Secretary and Treasurer of the Union Pacific Railway, but resigned this position when he entered the Senate. In Congress he was distinguished for his practical sense and fondness for business methods in legislation. He was for 30 years one of the most useful leaders of the Republican party of New Hampshire. His age was 65 years.

THE CASE OF MRS. MAYBRICK.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN IN THE TOILS.

He Spent Last Night in an Ordinary Cell at Police Headquarters.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, August 1.—John L. Sullivan looked none the worse this morning after his occupancy at Police Headquarters of one of the ordinary cells there for the night. The slugger was up early and ordered a substantial breakfast. In conversation with Inspector Byrnes Sullivan remarked: "Well, if I have done anything wrong and deserve punishment, I suppose I shall have to take it. I ain't a kicking." At 9:30 Sullivan, accompanied by Inspector Byrnes, went to the District-Attorney's office. When the carriage containing Sullivan, Detective Sergeants Adams and Kiernan and Deputy Sheriff Childs, of Jackson, Miss., rolled up Chambers-street to the Court of General Sessions it was surrounded by a cheering and howling crowd. Sullivan was taken before District Attorney Fellows, and the papers upon which he was arrested were handed to that official, who having carefully read them, gave whispered instructions to one of his clerks. This individual turning to the prisoner said: "Sullivan, if you want to you can get a writ of habeas corpus provided you are willing to swear that you are not John L. Sullivan." The big fellow smiled, shifted his straw hat from one hand to the other, and said nothing. Then his backer, Charles Johnson, said they were waiting for Delancey Nicoll, who had been retained as counsel. The pugilist, with the officers and a swarm of reporters, then adjourned to the room of Assistant District Attorney Fitzgerald.

In conversation Deputy Childs said he did not think the Southern people had any feeling against Sullivan, but they want to see the law vindicated. The feeling is against the railroad authorities. He is satisfied that if Sullivan goes back without resistence he will be treated leniently and no more than a nominal fine will be imposed although the extent of the law is $1,000 fine and a year's imprisonment. He is anxious to get Sullivan back as soon as the Court meets next Monday, and the trial can go right on without delay. The Deputy said he was not afraid to take Sullivan back single-handed.

The sports present said the Deputy's talk about a light fine was all bosh. It was only a ruse to get the big fellow down to the South, when officers would do all they could to settle him.

After Delancey Nicoll arrived and had a consultation with Sullivan and his friends the case was adjourned to Supreme Court Chambers before Judge O'Brien. The crowd had greatly increased and made a rush for the Court Room. The Assistant District Attorney stated the facts in the case, when Mr. Nicoll said: "Your Honor, John L. Sullivan, for whom I appear, has not the least intention of denying his identity or taking advantage of that section of the Criminal Code in regard to waiver. I have gone over these papers carefully, both of the Governor of Mississippi and of this State, and think the case has been clearly and fully made out. I wish to say that before the arrest was made John L. Sullivan had made up his mind to go back voluntarily and surrender himself to the authorities of Mississippi, feeling confident he would be justly and fairly dealt with. When Sullivan entered into the compact of fighting 'Jake' Kilrain he understood the battle-ground would be in Louisiana, and it was not until the night before the fight that the place of fighting was changed to Mississippi, and Sullivan did not really know until at the ring side that he was in the State of Mississippi. Your Honor, he did not change the ground, and had no intention of breaking the law, but he had no alternative but to fight or become a poltroon."

Judge O'Brien thereupon ordered that Sullivan be turned over at once to Deputy Sheriff Childs. The slugger left court in custody of the officers and was driven to an up-town resort where he will remain until to-night when he will start for the South. Sullivan was loudly cheered by the vast crowd around the Court House as he departed.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 1.—An official of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers states that at the recent meeting of the Western Division of the Brotherhood the question of federation was discussed. The question was whether the engineers should join in an organization the membership of which shall include all classes of railway employes. RAVAGES OF "MAD" HORSE IN CHICAGO.

Two Men and Eight Horses Torn by the Teeth of the Equine.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A horse with all the symptoms of hydrophobia ran amuck on Rohey-street, yesterday afternoon, and was finally killed beneath the shadow of the Moody tent at Milwaukee-avenue. No tiger of the jungle could have created more of a sensation or shown a more vicious desire to exterminate man and beast. Two men were bitten and eight horses torn by the teeth of the maddened animal. A thousand people joined in the hunt to destroy the brute. For two hours they chased up and down the streets and alleys, pursuing and pursued. Four policemen and Lieutenant Pensen joined the crowd.

Shortly after noon J. Erickson attempted to hitch his horse to his meat market wagon in front of his store. The animal was of gentle disposition, small, and without a trick or vicious habit. When the horse was led from the barn it showed signs of anger. Suddenly throwing back its ears, it sunk its teeth into Erickson's arm, and rearing, struck at his master with its fore-feet. Erickson dropped the halter and the horse chased his master into the shop. The beast put men, women and children to flight. It charged at every one it chanced to meet or overtake. In rushing after three women and several children it ran over two little girls, knocking them down, but only slightly bruising them. The others escaped, one of the women climbing a fence and the others, with the screaming children, ran up the steps and into the door of a house. When nearing North-avenue Conductor Duffy, of the North Avenue line, stepped off his car and caught hold of the animal's halter. He supposed it was simply a runaway horse. The animal made a vicious snap at him, catching his right hand with its teeth and taking out a piece of flesh. The conductor let go of the halter and jumped on the car, the horse biting and striking at him. As the horse went down Milwaukee-avenue it ran at everything it saw, and took a fancy for attacking its own kind and bit at every horse it passed. Eight of them it nipped in the side. It tore large pieces of hide from the ribs of some. Others it caught where it could, but always left the mark of its teeth. The animals thus injured in turn became demoralized and added to the excitement. The police finally drove the horse from the street to a vacant lot, where it was lassoed and shot. Conductor Duffy's hand, which was terribly torn, was immediately cauterized. He and his family are in an agony of fright as to the results that may follow. He is in great pain. Mr. Erickson called in a physician and had his wound dressed. He thinks the horse was bitten by a "mad" dog two weeks ago.

THE SEIZURE OF THE BLACK DIAMOND.

Event Caused No Excitement in San Francisco—What an Englishman Says.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Although San Francisco is the headquarters for a lot of seal hunters and whalers who scour the Northern seas every summer, the seizure of the Black Diamond has not excited much feeling here. Many of the schooners sailing from San Francisco depart with a small cargo of provisions and a load of whiskey, which, as has frequently been proven, is freely distributed among the natives, much to the latter's demoralization. The crews do not show any discrimination between the seals, killing any and all they can get at this season. One of the most prominent English residents on the coast said yesterday: "All this war sentiment comes from the residents of British Columbia and has as much effect on the Home Government as would the claim of one of its subjects to the exclusive possession of America. England recognizes the fact that the seal fisheries must be protected for its own interests as well as Americans. The Alaska seal industry, under the protection of the Alaska Commercial Company, nets a handsome revenue to England and gives employment to thousands of its laboring subjects at home. The Victoria sealers, although they send their catch to England, do not benefit the Government as does the Alaska Company. The British sealers, as well as the so-called Independent American sealers use no discretion in carrying on their hunting, and, as England knows too well, will, if permitted to continue, ruin the Northern seal fisheries in a few years." A member of the British Consulate says England is sure to stand with America in protecting the sealing business. The Alaska Fur Company, which sounded the British Representatives long since, is of the same opinion.

MORE HAVOC WROUGHT BY FLOODS.

Water in Schuylkill River Higher Than Ever Before in Twenty Years.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—The waters in the Schuylkill River have attained the highest point reached in this City in 20 years, involving destruction to property estimated at from $10,000 to $20,000. The park drives were submerged, boat-houses flooded and some of the streets near the river banks were under water to a depth of five feet. The cellars of two paper mills and about a dozen houses were flooded. The coffer dam of the new Reading Railroad bridge at the Falls of the Schuylkill was washed away, entailing a loss of $5,000. All work at Manayunk and the Penroyd iron works opposite was stopped, owing to the encroachment of the waters. Samuel Dallas, aged 14 years, who was playing in the water, was drowned. Throughout the eastern section of the State the rain fall was very heavy. Many houses and mills were flooded and business was seriously interrupted. At Williamsport the bridges over the Susquehanna had to be ballasted with heavily-laden coal cars. A large section of the Schuylkill Valley in the vicinity of Norristown and Conshocken was entirely under water. The water in nearly all the large streams is subsiding to-day.

NO ABATEMENT IN FOREST FIRES.

Damage Near Helena, Montana, Estimated at $500,000; Smoke is Stifling.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 1.—The forest fires show no signs of abatement. From Helena west, north and south, a great black cloud of smoke hangs over the country, and for six days the sun has not been seen. The damage is estimated at $500,000. At Missoula the streets, buildings and sidewalks are covered with ashes. The air is like a blast from a furnace. The atmosphere is filled with crisp embers that have descended like a light fall of snow. It is estimated that the loss in Jefferson County from forest fires so far this season will aggregate $25,000, consisting mainly of common wood cut and prepared for market, in addition to which an immense amount of standing timber has been destroyed. The fire now raging in Boulder Canon, near Bernice, has been most destructive of property. The larger part of the cordwood consumed in this blaze was contracted to the Anaconda smelter. In the neighborhood of the great mining camp of Phlipsbury the damage has been immense, while the town of Granite is in imminent danger of being destroyed. The mountains about the City are all ablaze, and the heat and stifling smoke are almost unbearable.

STILL PARLEYING WITH THE INDIANS.

General Crook's Speech the "Hit" of the Week—Polls Opened.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

STANDING ROCK AGENCY, Dak., Aug. 1.—At Tuesday night's council of the Indians there were many interesting speeches and many exciting scenes. John Grass repeated to the Indians the statement made by him to the Commissioners regarding the promise to pay Red Cloud $28,000 for ponies. He warned the Indians against being used as tools in the interest of Red Cloud or the Government, and expressed the belief that if the Indians at this agency stood firm the reservation would not be opened. At the Council yesterday the Indians were informed that no more meetings for the explanation of the treaty would be held. John Grass repeated his objections, chief among which is the price offered. Major Warner replied to Grass, answering his objections and complimenting him and his Indians on the progress they have made in agriculture and civilization. The Major made a most telling speech to the Reds, for he met every objection and explained the provisions of the treaty of 1868, which the Government is charged with violating.

General Crook said: "I have already intimated that unless you accept the treaty this land may be taken from you anyway. My reasons for thinking so are as follows: Dakota, Montana and Washington Territory have only one representative each in Congress, and do not have a vote. Thus in the past the cries of Dakota for the opening of this reservation have had little weight, but after October next they will be states, and and will have four Senators and eight Representatives, and then when they ask that these reservations be opened, the Red Man's voice will be small and he will be crowded to one side. I assure you that you are getting the best terms that will ever be offered you, and unless you accept you will not get more than you were offered a year ago. The Great Father does not want to deal with the Chiefs alone. He wants every Indian on the reservation to express his desire that they may be granted. You are the equal of the whites mentally and physically, and there is no reason why you should not be placed on equal footing if you continue to progress. You must provide for the future. You love your families and you want to know what will become of them when you are gone. If you accept this treaty and take your land like the whites, it can never be taken from you and will be your children's when you die. You will see that the Government is your friend.

The General's speech was the hit of the week. The rolls for signatures will be opened this morning.

Cassius Caldwell, fireman of the freight engine, was killed, and John Dougherty, engineer of the freight, was badly bruised. The latter takes all the blame on himself and says he forgot his orders. Daniel Brannen, engineer of the passenger train, was fatally injured. Fireman Lee Doty and baggage-master Pugh each had a right leg crushed. No passengers were seriously hurt although all were shaken up.

A CONDITION---NOT A THEORY.

Scene: Large excursion barge on the Hudson River! Many loving couples, some very spooney. Especially noticeable was one pair, Reginald Deepinlove and Arabella Sameway. After admiring the magnificent landscape and annihilating several pounds of bon-bons, Arabella lifted her loving eyes to her lover and uttered in plaintive tones: "Reginald do you really love me?" The young man almost fell fainting on the hard unpainted floor of the boat and exclaimed: "Arabella, my own, my dearest! I love you with all my heart; when can I call you mine?" Arabella, overcome by emotion and bon-bons, could only stammer: "When— when— you take me to the Hudson River Furniture Company's store to purchase a set of handsome Antique Oak bed-room suits that I saw there a few days ago."

Scene: One day later—Two very happy people examining Antique Oak furniture at Hudson River Furniture Company's warerooms.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

GOV. BEAVER received $10,000 yesterday from Berlin and over $1,200 from Manheim for the Johnstown sufferers. The money was paid by the German Consul at New-York.

THE Philadelphia Record charges Senator Quay with cherishing aspirations for the Presidency in 1892. We think he will wait till 1896. The Republican party might then go farther and fare worse.

T. C. CALLICOTT emphatically denies the rumor that he is to be Gov. Hill's Private Secretary. We thought he would decline. Mr. Callicott is in the habit of turning Republican when he goes for office.

THE reduction of the public debt during July is said to be about $1,000,000. This small showing is not unusual in the first month of a fiscal year. In July, 1888, the reduction was $4,000,000, and in July, 1887, less than $5,000,000.

AMONG the awful floods in New Jersey and Pennsylvania this week only one life is reported lost. In Philadelphia yesterday afternoon three lads jumped upon a small building that was floating in the Schuylkill, and all were thrown into the water when their craft capsized. One of them, Daniel Dallon, was swept under a schooner and drowned.

POSTMASTER GENERAL RAIKES of England sent a request to Lord Mayor Sexton of Dublin for the envelope upon President Harrison's letter that had been broken open in transit. Mayor Sexton replied that he was willing to show the envelope to the Postmaster General in person, but was unwilling to commit it to the mails again, as the Postoffice Department had proved itself unworthy of trust. The Postmaster General has the floor.

THE rainfall in New York city for four days and thirteen hours, beginning at 11 o'clock last Friday night and ending at noon yesterday, was 5.45 inches. For the month of July it was 10.59 inches, and for the seven months of the present year 31.16 inches. The latter is the highest record for 20 years. For July the average for twenty years preceding 1889 was 4.23 inches. The highest record for a month was in September, 1882, when the fall was 16.85 inches.

THE effect of a Democratic administration and free trade threats upon our commerce is admirably explained by the Utica Herald in an article published elsewhere. It put the balance of trade on the wrong side in 1888 to the amount of $28,000,000. Four months of Republican administration in the present fiscal year sufficed to reduce that balance to $2,000,000. At the end of the present year the balance will be back on the right side, with a generous margin.

THE steamer City of Paris arrived at New-York yesterday after a voyage of 5 days, 23 hours and 10 minutes. This is 3 minutes behind her unequaled record in May, but is still ahead of all other vessels. She took a shorter course, traveling only 2,797 miles, which is 58 miles less than her May voyage. Up to Tuesday noon the vessel was 60 miles ahead of her fastest record, but then encountered an adverse wind and heavy rain storm, which caused her to fall behind.

THE news comes from Chicago that an English syndicate is organizing all the ballet girls into a trust, with the view of controlling the theatrical business in America. The agent of the syndicate is W. H. Morton of the Columbia theatre, and he claims to have already secured 3,000 girls for his trust. Some of them are to be paid full salaries and the others half-pay, but hereafter all managers will have to obtain the girls from the syndicate. But a half dozen weddings would break up this trust.

ALBANY had another murder last night. Two drunken ruffians named James Grace and James O'Melia engaged in a fight in a stable yard on Herkimer street, when Florence Quinlan undertook to separate them. Grace, finding himself overpowered, drew a knife and stabbed Quinlan in the groin, severing the femoral artery. The wounded man ran a few rods into the street, where he fell and bled till he was unconscious. He was then picked up and carried back to the stable, where he died in a few minutes. He leaves a wife and five children. Grace tried to escape, but was captured and locked up. All the parties to the tragedy are known as "toughs."

JOHN SHIELDS, brakeman, played a dangerous joke upon Martin Quinlan, switchman, in the Jersey City yards yesterday. Shields, who was on the top of a moving caboose, seized a bell rope and threw it at Quinlan as he stood at his switch. The rope had a noose at the end, and this accidentally lassoed Quinlan about the neck. The train was moving at the rate of seven miles an hour, and the unfortunate man was dragged an entire block before the train stopped. He saved his life by thrusting his hand between the rope and his throat. He was nearly dead from strangling and bumping over the ties when rescued, but will recover. The yard foreman threatened to discharge Shields, but Quinlan interposed in his behalf, saying he meant him no harm. But his experience was much like that of victims of lynching parties down South.

EX-UNITED STATES SENATOR ROLLINS of New Hampshire died yesterday at a summer hotel in the Isles of Shoals. Mr. Rollins was reared on a farm, and became a druggist's clerk after leaving school. In 1847 he started a drug store in Concord, and was successful. He was elected to the Legislature in 1855 and twice afterwards, and served as Speaker of the House in 1856. He was elected Representative in Congress in 1861, '63 and '65, and to the Senate in 1877. From 1868 to 1876 he was Secretary and Treasurer of the Union Pacific Railway, but resigned this position when he entered the Senate. In Congress he was distinguished for his practical sense and fondness for business methods in legislation. He was for 30 years one of the most useful leaders of the Republican party of New Hampshire. His age was 65 years.

THE CASE OF MRS. MAYBRICK.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN IN THE TOILS.

He Spent Last Night in an Ordinary Cell at Police Headquarters.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, August 1.—John L. Sullivan looked none the worse this morning after his occupancy at Police Headquarters of one of the ordinary cells there for the night. The slugger was up early and ordered a substantial breakfast. In conversation with Inspector Byrnes Sullivan remarked: "Well, if I have done anything wrong and deserve punishment, I suppose I shall have to take it. I ain't a kicking." At 9:30 Sullivan, accompanied by Inspector Byrnes, went to the District-Attorney's office. When the carriage containing Sullivan, Detective Sergeants Adams and Kiernan and Deputy Sheriff Childs, of Jackson, Miss., rolled up Chambers-street to the Court of General Sessions it was surrounded by a cheering and howling crowd. Sullivan was taken before District Attorney Fellows, and the papers upon which he was arrested were handed to that official, who having carefully read them, gave whispered instructions to one of his clerks. This individual turning to the prisoner said: "Sullivan, if you want to you can get a writ of habeas corpus provided you are willing to swear that you are not John L. Sullivan." The big fellow smiled, shifted his straw hat from one hand to the other, and said nothing. Then his backer, Charles Johnson, said they were waiting for Delancey Nicoll, who had been retained as counsel. The pugilist, with the officers and a swarm of reporters, then adjourned to the room of Assistant District Attorney Fitzgerald.

In conversation Deputy Childs said he did not think the Southern people had any feeling against Sullivan, but they want to see the law vindicated. The feeling is against the railroad authorities. He is satisfied that if Sullivan goes back without resistence he will be treated leniently and no more than a nominal fine will be imposed although the extent of the law is $1,000 fine and a year's imprisonment. He is anxious to get Sullivan back as soon as the Court meets next Monday, and the trial can go right on without delay. The Deputy said he was not afraid to take Sullivan back single-handed.

The sports present said the Deputy's talk about a light fine was all bosh. It was only a ruse to get the big fellow down to the South, when officers would do all they could to settle him.

After Delancey Nicoll arrived and had a consultation with Sullivan and his friends the case was adjourned to Supreme Court Chambers before Judge O'Brien. The crowd had greatly increased and made a rush for the Court Room. The Assistant District Attorney stated the facts in the case, when Mr. Nicoll said: "Your Honor, John L. Sullivan, for whom I appear, has not the least intention of denying his identity or taking advantage of that section of the Criminal Code in regard to waiver. I have gone over these papers carefully, both of the Governor of Mississippi and of this State, and think the case has been clearly and fully made out. I wish to say that before the arrest was made John L. Sullivan had made up his mind to go back voluntarily and surrender himself to the authorities of Mississippi, feeling confident he would be justly and fairly dealt with. When Sullivan entered into the compact of fighting 'Jake' Kilrain he understood the battle-ground would be in Louisiana, and it was not until the night before the fight that the place of fighting was changed to Mississippi, and Sullivan did not really know until at the ring side that he was in the State of Mississippi. Your Honor, he did not change the ground, and had no intention of breaking the law, but he had no alternative but to fight or become a poltroon."

Judge O'Brien thereupon ordered that Sullivan be turned over at once to Deputy Sheriff Childs. The slugger left court in custody of the officers and was driven to an up-town resort where he will remain until to-night when he will start for the South. Sullivan was loudly cheered by the vast crowd around the Court House as he departed.

Favorable to Federation.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 1.—An official of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers states that at the recent meeting of the Western Division of the Brotherhood the question of federation was discussed. The question was whether the engineers should join in an organization the membership of which shall include all classes of railway employes. The question was answered in the affirmative by a large majority. It is believed all the meetings of the various divisions of the Brotherhood held in different parts of the country recently were called to take a vote on this question.

RAVAGES OF "MAD" HORSE IN CHICAGO.

Two Men and Eight Horses Torn by the Teeth of the Equine.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A horse with all the symptoms of hydrophobia ran amuck on Robey-street yesterday afternoon, and was finally killed beneath the shadow of the Moody tent at Milwaukee-avenue. No tiger of the jungle could have created more of a sensation or shown a more vicious desire to exterminate man and beast. Two men were bitten and eight horses torn by the teeth of the maddened animal. A thousand people joined in the hunt to destroy the brute. For two hours they chased up and down the streets and alleys, pursuing and pursued. Four policemen and Lieutenant Pensen joined the crowd.

Shortly after noon J. Erickson attempted to hitch his horse to his meat market wagon in front of his store. The animal was of gentle disposition, small, and without a trick or vicious habit. When the horse was led from the barn it showed signs of anger. Suddenly throwing back its ears, it sunk its teeth into Erickson's arm, and rearing, struck at his master with its fore-feet. Erickson dropped the halter and the horse chased his master into the shop. The beast put men, women and children to flight. It charged at every one it chanced to meet or overtake. In rushing after three women and several children it ran over two little girls, knocking them down, but only slightly bruising them. The others escaped, one of the women climbing a fence and the others, with the screaming children, ran up the steps and into the door of a house. When nearing North-avenue Conductor Duffy, of the North Avenue line, stepped off his car and caught hold of the animal's halter. He supposed it was simply a runaway horse. The animal made a vicious snap at him, catching his right hand with its teeth and taking out a piece of flesh. The conductor let go of the halter and jumped on the car, the horse biting and striking at him. As the horse went down Milwaukee-avenue it ran at everything it saw, and took a fancy for attacking its own kind and bit at every horse it passed. Eight of them it nipped in the side. It tore large pieces of hide from the ribs of some. Others it caught where it could, but always left the mark of its teeth. The animals thus injured in turn became demoralized and added to the excitement. The police finally drove the horse from the street to a vacant lot, where it was lassoed and shot. Conductor Duffy's hand, which was terribly torn, was immediately cauterized. He and his family are in an agony of fright as to the results that may follow. He is in great pain. Mr. Erickson called in a physician and had his wound dressed. He thinks the horse was bitten by a "mad" dog two weeks ago.

THE SEIZURE OF THE BLACK DIAMOND.

Event Caused No Excitement in San Francisco—What an Englishman Says.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Although San Francisco is the headquarters for a lot of seal hunters and whalers who scour the Northern seas every summer, the seizure of the Black Diamond has not excited much feeling here. Many of the schooners sailing from San Francisco depart with a small cargo of provisions and a load of whiskey, which, as has frequently been proven, is freely distributed among the natives, much to the latter's demoralization. The crews do not show any discrimination between the seals, killing any and all they can get at any season. One of the most prominent English residents on the coast said yesterday: "All this war sentiment comes from the residents of British Columbia and has as much effect on the Home Government as would the claim of one of its subjects to the exclusive possession of America. England recognizes the fact that the seal fisheries must be protected for its own interests as well as America's. The Alaska seal industry, under the protection of the Alaska Commercial Company, nets a handsome revenue to England and gives employment to thousands of its laboring subjects at home. The Victoria sealers, although they send their catch to England, do not benefit the Government as does the Alaska Company. The British Sealers, as well as the so-called Independent American sealers use no discretion in carrying on their hunting, and, as England knows too well, will, if permitted to continue, ruin the Northern seal fisheries in a few years." A member of the British Consulate says England is sure to stand with America in protecting the sealing business. The Alaska Fur Company, which sounded the British Representatives long since, is of the same opinion.

MORE HAVOC WROUGHT BY FLOODS.

Water in Schuylkill River Higher Than Ever Before in Twenty Years.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—The waters in the Schuylkill River have attained the highest point reached in this City in 20 years, involving destruction to property estimated at from $10,000 to $20,000. The park drives were submerged, boat houses flooded and some of the streets near the river banks were under water to a depth of five feet. The cellars of two paper mills and about a dozen houses were flooded. The coffer dam of the new Reading Railroad bridge at the Falls of the Schuylkill was washed away, entailing a loss of $5,000. All work at Manayunk and the Pencoyd iron works opposite was stopped, owing to the encroachment of the waters. Samuel Dallas, aged 14 years, who was playing in the water, was drowned. Throughout the eastern section of the State the rain fall was very heavy. Many houses and mills were flooded and business was seriously interrupted. At Williamsport the bridges over the Susquehanna had to be ballasted with heavily-laden coal cars. A large section of the Schuylkill Valley in the vicinity of Norristown and Conshocken was entirely under water. The water in nearly all the large streams is subsiding to-day.

Damage Near Helena, Montana, Estimated at $500,000; Smoke is Stifling.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 1.—The forest fires show no signs of abatement. From Helena west, north and south, a great black cloud of smoke hangs over the country, and for six days the sun has not been seen. The damage is estimated at $500,000. At Missoula the streets, buildings and sidewalks are covered with ashes. The air is like a blast from a furnace. The atmosphere is filled with crisp embers that have descended like a light fall of snow. It is estimated that the loss in Jefferson County from forest fires so far this season will aggregate $25,000, consisting mainly of common wood cut and prepared for market, in addition to which an immense amount of standing timber has been destroyed. The fire now raging in Boulder Canon, near Bernice, has been most destructive of property. The larger part of the cordwood consumed in this blaze was contracted to the Anaconda smelter. In the neighborhood of the great mining camp of Phillipsburg the damage has been immense, while the town of Granite is in imminent danger of being destroyed. The mountains about the City are all ablaze, and the heat and stifling smoke are almost unbearable.

STILL PARLEYING WITH THE INDIANS.

General Crook's Speech the "Hit" of the Week—Polls Opened.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

STANDING ROCK AGENCY, Dak., Aug. 1.—At Tuesday night's council of the Indians there were many interesting speeches and many exciting scenes. John Grass repeated to the Indians the statement made by him to the Commissioners regarding the promise to pay Red Cloud $28,000 for ponies. He warned the Indians against being used as tools in the interest of Red Cloud or the Government, and expressed the belief that if the Indians at this agency stood firm the reservation would not be opened. At the Council yesterday the Indians were informed that no more meetings for the explanation of the treaty would be held. John Grass repeated his objections, chief among which is the price offered. Major Warner replied to Grass, answering his objections and complimenting him and his Indians on the progress they have made in agriculture and civilization. The Major made a most telling speech to the Reds, for he met every objection and explained the provisions of the treaty of 1868, which the Government is charged with violating.

General Crook said: "I have already intimated that unless you accept the treaty this land may be taken from you anyway. My reasons for thinking so are as follows: Dakota, Montana and Washington Territory have only one representative each in Congress, and do not have a vote. Thus in the past the cries of Dakota for the opening of this reservation have had little weight, but after October next they will be states, and and will have four Senators and eight Representatives, and then when they ask that these reservations be opened, the Red Man's voice will be small and he will be crowded to one side. I assure you that you are getting the best terms that will ever be offered you, and unless you accept you will not get more than you were offered a year ago. The Great Father does not want to deal with the Chiefs alone. He wants every Indian on the reservation to express his desire that they may be granted. You are the equal of the whites mentally and physically, and there is no reason why you should not be placed on equal footing if you continue to progress. You must provide for the future. You love your families and you want to know what will become of them when you are gone. If you accept this treaty and take your land like the whites, it can never be taken from you and will be your children's when you die. You will see that the Government is your friend.

The General's speech was the hit of the week. The rolls for signatures will be opened this morning.

A CONDITION---NOT A THEORY.

Scene: Large excursion barge on the Hudson River! Many loving couples, some very spooney. Especially noticeable was one pair, Reginald Deepinlove and Arabella Sameway. After admiring the magnificent landscape and annihilating several pounds of bon-bons, Arabella lifted her loving eyes to her lover and uttered in plaintive tones: "Reginald do you really love me?" The young man almost fell fainting on the hard unpainted floor of the boat and exclaimed: "Arabella, my own, my dearest! I love you with all my heart; when can I call you mine?" Arabella, overcome by emotion and bon-bons, could only stammer: "When— when— you take me to the Hudson River Furniture Company's store to purchase a set of handsome Antique Oak bed-room suits that I saw there a few days ago."

Scene: One day later—Two very happy people examining Antique Oak furniture at Hudson River Furniture Company's warerooms.

THE BEHRING SEA DISPUTE.

Some reports of a quieting nature are received from the Dominion capital in regard to the capture of a seal fisher in the Behring sea. One is that the story that the Cabinet is considering the matter is untrue. Another is that the government has not recommended a retaliatory policy. Of course there is some show of indignation, but it becomes apparent that extreme measures are going to be carefully avoided until the imperial government is heard from. And it is a pretty well established fact that the imperial government does not care enough for its profitless American colonies to fight their battles for them.

Mr. Blaine was consulted on the subject at Bangor on his way to Bar Harbor yesterday. He said that everything done on the seal question since the 4th of March last was in literal compliance with the law passed by the last Congress and approved by President Cleveland on the very last day of his administation. The enactment of the law by a Congress partly Democratic, and its approval by a Democratic President, expresses the unanimity of the American people on the subject, and justifies the President in enforcing it. Indeed, he has no other option.

The title to Behring Sea was transferred by Russia to the United States in 1867 along with that to Alaska. While possessed by Russia it was regarded as a land-locked sea, and other nations did not attempt to occupy it, though seal fishing there was immensely profitable. The title of the United States was treated with equal respect until Mr. Cleveland became President. In 1885 and 1886 the Canadians kept their hands off, but the pusillanimity exhibited by our government on the Canadian fisheries question led the fishermen of British Columbia to believe that they could enter Behring sea with impunity. During the season of 1887 the government resented the invasion, and several sealers were seized. In 1888 the revenue cutter was sent again into the sea ostensibly to protect American rights there, but Captain Shepherd states that he carried with him secret instructions, the nature of which he refuses to reveal under oath, but under which he did not feel at liberty to make seizures. Last year the poaching by British vessels was practiced on a large scale, and there was no interference. Captain Fisher carried two sets of orders. One set was intended for publication, and instructed him to clear the sea of thieves. The other was for his observance and was to be kept profoundly secret. This order he obeyed, hence there were no seizures.

The question is one of serious importance, and must be submitted to diplomatic discussion. In the meantime there should be no poaching,as the United States is able to show title to the sea by purchase from Russia. If this title is in violation of international law, England must establish that fact before she begins to occupy the sea. When two farmers have a dispute over a tract of land, it is not honest or in accordance with law for one of them to go upon it and remove the crops or timber. Both must wait till the court decides the issue for them.

A HIGH LICENSE DIVORCE.

The wife of Sheriff Flack of New York obtained a divorce yesterday. Usually divorces are not matters of general interest, but when a real Sheriff, and especially the Sheriff of so important a county as New York, is put away by his wife, a big social breeze is sure to follow. Mr. Flack was elected last fall. It is a little remarkable that the complex nature of his domestic affairs did not leak out at that time and spoil his canvass, but he managed his secret well. Against the divorce prosecution he made no defense, having arranged, as he supposed, to get through it quietly and without scandal. But it is all "in the papers."

Mr. and Mrs. Flack have been married so long that they have one son grown to manhood, who is managing his father's bookbinding business. At this business Mr. Flack accumulated wealth, and maintained his family in good style in a brown-stone mansion in East Fifty-seventh street. But Mrs. Flack made a discovery some months ago that spoiled her happiness. It was nothing less than that her husband was maintaining another domestic establishment not far away, where he was not known as the Sheriff or even as Mr. Flack, but by another name, which the lady of the establishment bore also. It is ascertained that the Sheriff has been living this double family life for more than two years. He is a Tammany Sachem, but does not appear to have entrusted his associate politicians with a knowledge of the heavy responsibilities which might be expected to unfit any other man for a high and arduous office.

Mrs. Flack begun her suit in the Common Pleas court, and a referee was appointed. Twenty days' notice was served on the Sheriff, but he put in no answer and no lawyer appeared for him. Only three witnesses were examined, and upon their testimony the referee made his report to the court, which thereupon issued a decree of absolute divorce. Now that the news is out, his friends express surprise. They plead, however, that his wife is sickly, and this has been a source of great dissatisfaction to him. Still, as one of them expresses it, "it is surprising that he, with so many years of married life behind him, and with all his prominence in business and politics, should not have been able to fix matters better than to have a divorce." This by way of apology and defense for his powerful political friend.

But the foundation principle of marriage, "for better or for worse," has been shockingly violated by the Sheriff. The woman who allied her life to his would not thus have treated him if he had become broken in health or poor. Even the man who keeps a valued employe in his service for years, does not turn him off in old age or when his health breaks down, but finds an easier place for him or pensions him off. It is only in certain marriages that we look for the crimes of ingratitude, unfaithfulness and monstrous cruelty. Gov. Hill should remove Flack from office, in order that these crimes may receive a fitting and conspicuous rebuke.

WHAT WILL BE DONE WITH SULLIVAN?

John L. Sullivan, leading Democrat and aspirant for a seat in Congress, was arrested yesterday in New York city by a Democratic detective and locked up at police headquarters presided over by Democrats. Sullivan took his arrest cooly, for he was among friends, though it was an undoubted surprise to him. He had been in and out of New York for weeks, coming and going in the most public manner, and no officer of the law presumed to lay a hand upon him, though he had violated the laws of the state and was subject to a year in prison and a fine of $500. Gov. Hill knew of his coming and going, and did not lift a hand. District Attorney Fellows knew of it, and refused to stir. The committing magistrates were well informed, but not one of them issued a warrant. There would have been a different treatment of the case if Warner Miller had been elected Governor last fall. Sullivan would not have left the state, in violation of the laws thereof, to engage in a prize fight in another state. Or if he had succeeded in escaping the Governor would have sent detectives after him, offered a reward for his arrest, and secured his extradition from the state in which his capture was effected. And if the District Attorney had refused or failed to prosecute, he would have removed him from office and appointed a man in his place willing and brave enough to do his entire duty.

But Sullivan was arrested yesterday. This was done because Gov. Lowry of Mississippi, a Democrat, had sent an agent to New York to bring the pugilist back to the scene of his crime. When the Democratic Governor of a Southern state speaks, it is the duty of our Northern Governor to obey. The agent reported to the detective that he had been to Albany to see the Governor about Sullivan's extradition, and Mr. Hill informed him that he could do nothing about it until the pugilist had been arrested. This occasioned some delay, and in the meantime Sullivan appears to have been informed of what was happening, for when the detective called upon him at the Vanderbilt hotel last evening, he found the pugilist prepared to give himself up, and feeling glad that the suspense was over. He is under arrest because he did not improve the excellent opportunity to escape which the long drawn out proceedings had afforded him. There may be some surprise and disgust high up in Democratic councils that the big man did not get away.

We suppose Gov. Hill will honor the requisition of Gov. Lowry and start the pugilist on the way to Mississippi, legally and correctly extradited. He need not do this. The penalty for what Sullivan did in this state by preparing for the fight and then departing to engage in it is the same as that of Mississippi for actual prize fighting, save that the fine is $500 instead of $1,000. Sullivan's muscle could be retained in one of the prisons of this state for a year, and his fine would be just as valuable in New York's treasury as Mississippi's. But to punish him according to law would break up the Democratic party here by alienating the pugilistic and gambling element and creating unhappiness among the saloons, of which he and his friends are generous patrons. So he will be started towards Mississippi. And then bets will be offered at big odds that he will never get there.

THE TARIFF AND COMMERCE.

Ruinous Effect of Free Trade Threats—Imports Increased and Exports Diminished.

[From the Utica Herald.]

The report by the Bureau of Statistics of our foreign commerce for the fiscal year ending with June 30 last, is an eloquent argument against the overthrow of the protective system. For the figures show that the value of merchandise imported is greater than in any previous year in our history, and since prices are in all branches now very low, this excess signifies an increase of vast extent. Our imports of merchandise were in 1860 $353,616,119; in 1870 they were with high prices $435,958,408, and they became $667,954,746 in 1880. The highest figures they ever reached before the year just closed, were $723,180,914, in 1882, and they have now run up in the fiscal year 1888-'89 to $745,127,476. Surely in the condition of our markets, nothing should be done to increase unnaturally this flood of foreign goods coming in to compete with the products of our own artisans.

The damage which has been done to our export trade by the threats in Washington to overthrow our revenue system can not well be estimated. Foreign producers have become encouraged in the belief that our markets were to be thrown wide open to all the world, and especially to dealers in "cheap and nasty wares," while notice was served on our wool growers and manufacturers in every department that the foundations on which their industries were established were to be torn up, and the protection afforded by our revenue laws was to be destroyed. So the exports, which were $902,377,346 in 1881, fell in the three years affected by the Cleveland administration and the Mills-Carlisle discussions, to $679,524,830 in 1886, to $716,183,211 in 1887, and to $695,954,597 in 1888. While only a part of the past year has been affected by the demonstration that the protective system is to be maintained, the period since November has been long enough to give hope and courage to industry, and the exports for the fiscal year 1889 ran up to $742,401,799.

The credit balance of trade, which was $259,712,718 in 1881, passed to the adverse side in 1888, to the amount of $28,002,607, and continues in 1889 on that side, but now amounts only to $2,725,677. But without the change of a letter of statute, by the construction of the laws in the spirit in which they are made, the impetus has been given to increased home production, with restriction on unfair competition from abroad. Here in Utica, this change is fully appreciated in the imposition on worsted cloths of the duties conceded to be rightful even by Mr. Cleveland and his Secretary of the Treasury, and yet never collected at the correct rates, until under the construction of Secretary Windom.

While our importations are at the highest standard ever reached, and domestic enterprise is starting out on new ventures in every direction, the time is opportune to continue the work of adjusting the revenue laws so well begun by the Senate. Only the most purblind theorist will plead that lower duties are necessary to bring in all the foreign merchandise that our people can pay for in the face of these instructive figures. The current of trade flows strongly enough into our ports. The need is to foster our own industries. Capital and labor are already assured that the war on our protective system can produce no result for four years to come. That assurance is a guarantee of extended production and increased trade at home, of healthful business, and of good times on a solid, conservative basis.

PUBLIC OPINION.

We shall begin to believe in holding the World's fair in New York, when we see the $10,000,000 guarantee fund all subscribed by New Yorkers. Gothamite talk is very cheap.—Springfield Union.

The New Jersey woman who talked too much has been fined $25. She can console herself with reflection that it cost Grover Cleveland $10,000 and the Presidency to do the same thing.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Cleveland-Hill feud in this state already assumes the appearance of two cats tied together and slung over a clothes line. Grover and David will divest each other of every particle of fur by 1892; and neither will be in a presentable condition for the national convention.—Albany Journal.

In one respect at least South Dakota is admirably qualified for statehood. The average illiteracy among the white people of the United States is 11 9-10 per cent. In South Dakota it is but 4 2-10 per cent. This is due to the enlightened policy that has provided a superb educational system for the territory. And perhaps it explains why the new state will be stanchly Republican.—Troy Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1. — Indications for Friday: Threatening weather and showers, slight changes in temperature, southerly winds.

THE BEHRING SEA DISPUTE.

Some reports of a quieting nature are received from the Dominion capital in regard to the capture of a seal fisher in the Behring sea. One is that the story that the Cabinet is considering the matter is untrue. Another is that the government has not recommended a retaliatory policy. Of course there is some show of indignation, but it becomes apparent that extreme measures are going to be carefully avoided until the imperial government is heard from. And it is a pretty well established fact that the imperial government does not care enough for its profitless American colonies to fight their battles for them.

Mr. Blaine was consulted on the subject at Bangor on his way to Bar Harbor yesterday. He said that everything done on the seal question since the 4th of March last was in literal compliance with the law passed by the last Congress and approved by President Cleveland on the very last day of his administation. The enactment of the law by a Congress partly Democratic, and its approval by a Democratic President, expresses the unanimity of the American people on the subject, and justifies the President in enforcing it. Indeed, he has no other option.

The title to Behring Sea was transferred by Russia to the United States in 1867 along with that to Alaska. While possessed by Russia it was regarded as a land-locked sea, and other nations did not attempt to occupy it, though seal fishing there was immensely profitable. The title of the United States was treated with equal respect until Mr. Cleveland became President. In 1885 and 1886 the Canadians kept their hands off, but the pusillanimity exhibited by our government on the Canadian fisheries question led the fishermen of British Columbia to believe that they could enter Behring sea with impunity. During the season of 1887 the government resented the invasion, and several sealers were seized. In 1888 the revenue cutter was sent again into the sea ostensibly to protect American rights there, but Captain Shepherd states that he carried with him secret instructions, the nature of which he refuses to reveal under oath, but under which he did not feel at liberty to make seizures. Last year the poaching by British vessels was practiced on a large scale, and there was no interference. Captain Fisher carried two sets of orders. One set was intended for publication, and instructed him to clear the sea of thieves. The other was for his observance and was to be kept profoundly secret. This order he obeyed, hence there were no seizures.

The question is one of serious importance, and must be submitted to diplomatic discussion. In the meantime there should be no poaching, as the United States is able to show title to the sea by purchase from Russia. If this title is in violation of international law, England must establish that fact before she begins to occupy the sea. When two farmers have a dispute over a tract of land, it is not honest or in accordance with law for one of them to go upon it and remove the crops or timber. Both must wait till the court decides the issue for them.

A HIGH LICENSE DIVORCE.

The wife of Sheriff Flack of New York obtained a divorce yesterday. Usually divorces are not matters of general interest, but when a real Sheriff, and especially the Sheriff of so important a county as New York, is put away by his wife, a big social breeze is sure to follow. Mr. Flack was elected last fall. It is a little remarkable that the complex nature of his domestic affairs did not leak out at that time and spoil his canvass, but he managed his secret well. Against the divorce prosecution he made no defense, having arranged, as he supposed, to get through it quietly and without scandal. But it is all "in the papers."

Mr. and Mrs. Flack have been married so long that they have one son grown to manhood, who is managing his father's book-binding business. At this business Mr. Flack accumulated wealth, and maintained his family in good style in a brown-stone mansion in East Fifty-seventh street. But Mrs. Flack made a discovery some months ago that spoiled her happiness. It was nothing less than that her husband was maintaining another domestic establishment not far away, where he was not known as the Sheriff or even as Mr. Flack, but by another name, which the lady of the establishment bore also. It is ascertained that the Sheriff has been living this double family life for more than two years. He is a Tammany Sachem, but does not appear to have entrusted his associate politicians with a knowledge of the heavy responsibilities which might be expected to unfit any other man for a high and arduous office.

Mrs. Flack begun her suit in the Common Pleas court, and a referee was appointed. Twenty days' notice was served on the Sheriff, but he put in no answer and no lawyer appeared for him. Only three witnesses were examined, and upon their testimony the referee made his report to the court, which thereupon issued a decree of absolute divorce. Now that the news is out, his friends express surprise. They plead, however, that his wife is sickly, and this has been a source of great dissatisfaction to him. Still, as one of them expresses it, "it is surprising that he, with so many years of married life behind him, and with all his prominence in business and politics, should not have been able to fix matters better than to have a divorce." This by way of apology and defense for his powerful political friend.

But the foundation principle of marriage, "for better or for worse," has been shockingly violated by the Sheriff. The woman who allied her life to his would not thus have treated him if he had become broken in health or poor. Even the man who keeps a valued employe in his service for years, does not turn him off in old age or when his health breaks down, but finds an easier place for him or pensions him off. It is only in certain marriages that we look for the crimes of ingratitude, unfaithfulness and monstrous cruelty. Gov. Hill should remove Flack from office, in order that these crimes may receive a fitting and conspicuous rebuke.

WHAT WILL BE DONE WITH SULLIVAN?

John L. Sullivan, leading Democrat and aspirant for a seat in Congress, was arrested yesterday in New York city by a Democratic detective and locked up at police headquarters presided over by Democrats. Sullivan took his arrest cooly, for he was among friends, though it was an undoubted surprise to him. He had been in and out of New York for weeks, coming and going in the most public manner, and no officer of the law presumed to lay a hand upon him, though he had violated the laws of the state and was subject to a year in prison and a fine of $500. Gov. Hill knew of his coming and going, and did not lift a hand. District Attorney Fellows knew of it, and refused to stir. The committing magistrates were well informed, but not one of them issued a warrant. There would have been a different treatment of the case if Warner Miller had been elected Governor last fall. Sullivan would not have left the state, in violation of the laws thereof, to engage in a prize fight in another state. Or if he had succeeded in escaping the Governor would have sent detectives after him, offered a reward for his arrest, and secured his extradition from the state in which his capture was effected. And if the District Attorney had refused or failed to prosecute, he would have removed him from office and appointed a man in his place willing and brave enough to do his entire duty.

But Sullivan was arrested yesterday. This was done because Gov. Lowry of Mississippi, a Democrat, had sent an agent to New York to bring the pugilist back to the scene of his crime. When the Democratic Governor of a Southern state speaks, it is the duty of our Northern Governor to obey. The agent reported to the detective that he had been to Albany to see the Governor about Sullivan's extradition, and Mr. Hill informed him that he could do nothing about it until the pugilist had been arrested. This occasioned some delay, and in the meantime Sullivan appears to have been informed of what was happening, for when the detective called upon him at the Vanderbilt hotel last evening, he found the pugilist prepared to give himself up, and feeling glad that the suspense was over. He is under arrest because he did not improve the excellent opportunity to escape which the long drawn out proceedings had afforded him. There may be some surprise and disgust high up in Democratic councils that the big man did not get away.

We suppose Gov. Hill will honor the requisition of Gov. Lowry and start the pugilist on the way to Mississippi, legally and correctly extradited. He need not do this. The penalty for what Sullivan did in this state by preparing for the fight and then departing to engage in it is the same as that of Mississippi for actual prize fighting, save that the fine is $500 instead of $1,000. Sullivan's muscle could be retained in one of the prisons of this state for a year, and his fine would be just as valuable in New York's treasury as Mississippi's. But to punish him according to law would break up the Democratic party here by alienating the pugilistic and gambling element and creating unhappiness among the saloons, of which he and his friends are generous patrons. So he will be started towards Mississippi. And then bets will be offered at big odds that he will never get there.

THE TARIFF AND COMMERCE.

Ruinous Effect of Free Trade Threats—Imports Increased and Exports Diminished.

[From the Utica Herald.]

The report by the Bureau of Statistics of our foreign commerce for the fiscal year ending with June 30 last, is an eloquent argument against the overthrow of the protective system. For the figures show that the value of merchandise imported is greater than in any previous year in our history, and since prices are in all branches now very low, this excess signifies an increase of vast extent. Our imports of merchandise were in 1860 $353,616,119; in 1870 they were with high prices $435,958,408, and they became $667,954,746 in 1880. The highest figures they ever reached before the year just closed, were $723,180,914, in 1882, and they have now run up in the fiscal year 1888-'89 to $745,127,476. Surely in the condition of our markets, nothing should be done to increase unnaturally this flood of foreign goods coming in to compete with the products of our own artisans.

The damage which has been done to our export trade by the threats in Washington to overthrow our revenue system can not well be estimated. Foreign producers have become encouraged in the belief that our markets were to be thrown wide open to all the world, and especially to dealers in "cheap and nasty wares," while notice was served on our wool growers and manufacturers in every department that the foundations on which their industries were established were to be torn up, and the protection afforded by our revenue laws was to be destroyed. So the exports, which were $902,377,346 in 1881, fell in the three years affected by the Cleveland administration and the Mills-Carlisle discussions, to $679,524,830 in 1886, to $716,183,211 in 1887, and to $695,954,597 in 1888. While only a part of the past year has been affected by the demonstration that the protective system is to be maintained, the period since November has been long enough to give hope and courage to industry, and the exports for the fiscal year 1889 ran up to $742,401,799.

The credit balance of trade, which was $259,712,718 in 1881, passed to the adverse side in 1888, to the amount of $28,002,607, and continues in 1889 on that side, but now amounts only to $2,725,677. But without the change of a letter of statute, by the construction of the laws in the spirit in which they are made, the impetus has been given to increased home production, with restriction on unfair competition from abroad. Here in Utica, this change is fully appreciated in the imposition on worsted cloths of the duties conceded to be rightful even by Mr. Cleveland and his Secretary of the Treasury, and yet never collected at the correct rates, until under the construction of Secretary Windom.

While our importations are at the highest standard ever reached, and domestic enterprise is starting out on new ventures in every direction, the time is opportune to continue the work of adjusting the revenue laws so well begun by the Senate. Only the most purblind theorist will plead that lower duties are necessary to bring in all the foreign merchandise that our people can pay for in the face of these instructive figures. The current of trade flows strongly enough into our ports. The need is to foster our own industries. Capital and labor are already assured that the war on our protective system can produce no result for four years to come. That assurance is a guarantee of extended production and increased trade at home, of healthful business, and of good times on a solid, conservative basis.

PUBLIC OPINION.

We shall begin to believe in holding the World's fair in New York, when we see the $10,000,000 guarantee fund all subscribed by New Yorkers. Gothamite talk is very cheap. —Springfield Union.

The New Jersey woman who talked too much has been fined $25. She can console herself with reflection that it cost Grover Cleveland $10,000 and the Presidency to do the same thing.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Cleveland-Hill feud in this state already assumes the appearance of two cats tied together and slung over a clothes line. Grover and David will divest each other of every particle of fur by 1892; and neither will be in a presentable condition for the national convention.—Albany Journal.

In one respect at least South Dakota is admirably qualified for statehood. The average illiteracy among the white people of the United States is 11 9-10 per cent. In South Dakota it is but 4 2-10 per cent. This is due to the enlightened policy that has provided a superb educational system for the territory. And perhaps it explains why the new state will be stanchly Republican.—Troy Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1. — Indications for Friday: Threatening weather and showers, slight changes in temperature, southerly winds.

THE BEHRING SEA DISPUTE.

Some reports of a quieting nature are received from the Dominion capital in regard to the capture of a seal fisher in the Behring sea. One is that the story that the Cabinet is considering the matter is untrue. Another is that the government has not recommended a retaliatory policy. Of course there is some show of indignation, but it becomes apparent that extreme measures are going to be carefully avoided until the imperial government is heard from. And it is a pretty well established fact that the imperial government does not care enough for its profitless American colonies to fight their battles for them.

Mr. Blaine was consulted on the subject at Bangor on his way to Bar Harbor yesterday. He said that everything done on the seal question since the 4th of March last was in literal compliance with the law passed by the last Congress and approved by President Cleveland on the very last day of his administation. The enactment of the law by a Congress partly Democratic, and its approval by a Democratic President, expresses the unanimity of the American people on the subject, and justifies the President in enforcing it. Indeed, he has no other option.

The title to Behring Sea was transferred by Russia to the United States in 1867 along with that to Alaska. While possessed by Russia it was regarded as a land-locked sea, and other nations did not attempt to occupy it, though seal fishing there was immensely profitable. The title of the United States was treated with equal respect until Mr. Cleveland became President. In 1885 and 1886 the Canadians kept their hands off, but the pusillanimity exhibited by our government on the Canadian fisheries question led the fishermen of British Columbia to believe that they could enter Behring sea with impunity. During the season of 1887 the government resented the invasion, and several sealers were seized. In 1888 the revenue cutter was sent again into the sea ostensibly to protect American rights there, but Captain Shepherd states that he carried with him secret instructions, the nature of which he refuses to reveal under oath, but under which he did not feel at liberty to make seizures. Last year the poaching by British vessels was practiced on a large scale, and there was no interference. Captain Fisher carried two sets of orders. One set was intended for publication, and instructed him to clear the sea of thieves. The other was for his observance and was to be kept profoundly secret. This order he obeyed, hence there were no seizures.

The question is one of serious importance, and must be submitted to diplomatic discussion. In the meantime there should be no poaching, as the United States is able to show title to the sea by purchase from Russia. If this title is in violation of international law, England must establish that fact before she begins to occupy the sea. When two farmers have a dispute over a tract of land, it is not honest or in accordance with law for one of them to go upon it and remove the crops or timber. Both must wait till the court decides the issue for them.

A HIGH LICENSE DIVORCE.

The wife of Sheriff Flack of New York obtained a divorce yesterday. Usually divorces are not matters of general interest, but when a real Sheriff, and especially the Sheriff of so important a county as New York, is put away by his wife, a big social breeze is sure to follow. Mr. Flack was elected last fall. It is a little remarkable that the complex nature of his domestic affairs did not leak out at that time and spoil his canvass, but he managed his secret well. Against the divorce prosecution he made no defense, having arranged, as he supposed, to get through it quietly and without scandal. But it is all "in the papers."

Mr. and Mrs. Flack have been married so long that they have one son grown to manhood, who is managing his father's bookbinding business. At this business Mr. Flack accumulated wealth, and maintained his family in good style in a brown-stone mansion in East Fifty-seventh street. But Mrs. Flack made a discovery some months ago that spoiled her happiness. It was nothing less than that her husband was maintaining another domestic establishment not far away, where he was not known as the Sheriff or even as Mr. Flack, but by another name, which the lady of the establishment bore also. It is ascertained that the Sheriff has been living this double family life for more than two years. He is a Tammany Sachem, but does not appear to have entrusted his associate politicians with a knowledge of the heavy responsibilities which might be expected to unfit any other man for a high and arduous office.

Mrs. Flack begun her suit in the Common Pleas court, and a referee was appointed. Twenty days' notice was served on the Sheriff, but he put in no answer and no lawyer appeared for him. Only three witnesses were examined, and upon their testimony the referee made his report to the court, which thereupon issued a decree of absolute divorce. Now that the news is out, his friends express surprise. They plead, however, that his wife is sickly, and this has been a source of great dissatisfaction to him. Still, as one of them expresses it, "it is surprising that he, with so many years of married life behind him, and with all his prominence in business and politics, should not have been able to fix matters better than to have a divorce." This by way of apology and defense for his powerful political friend.

But the foundation principle of marriage, "for better or for worse," has been shockingly violated by the Sheriff. The woman who allied her life to his would not thus have treated him if he had become broken in health or poor. Even the man who keeps a valued employe in his service for years, does not turn him off in old age or when his health breaks down, but finds an easier place for him or pensions him off. It is only in certain marriages that we look for the crimes of ingratitude, unfaithfulness and monstrous cruelty. Gov. Hill should remove Flack from office, in order that these crimes may receive a fitting and conspicuous rebuke.

WHAT WILL BE DONE WITH SULLIVAN?

John L. Sullivan, leading Democrat and aspirant for a seat in Congress, was arrested yesterday in New York city by a Democratic detective and locked up at police headquarters presided over by Democrats. Sullivan took his arrest cooly, for he was among friends, though it was an undoubted surprise to him. He had been in and out of New York for weeks, coming and going in the most public manner, and no officer of the law presumed to lay a hand upon him, though he had violated the laws of the state and was subject to a year in prison and a fine of $500. Gov. Hill knew of his coming and going, and did not lift a hand. District Attorney Fellows knew of it, and refused to stir. The committing magistrates were well informed, but not one of them issued a warrant. There would have been a different treatment of the case if Warner Miller had been elected Governor last fall. Sullivan would not have left the state, in violation of the laws thereof, to engage in a prize fight in another state. Or if he had succeeded in escaping the Governor would have sent detectives after him, offered a reward for his arrest, and secured his extradition from the state in which his capture was effected. And if the District Attorney had refused or failed to prosecute, he would have removed him from office and appointed a man in his place willing and brave enough to do his entire duty.

But Sullivan was arrested yesterday. This was done because Gov. Lowry of Mississippi, a Democrat, had sent an agent to New York to bring the pugilist back to the scene of his crime. When the Democratic Governor of a Southern state speaks, it is the duty of our Northern Governor to obey. The agent reported to the detective that he had been to Albany to see the Governor about Sullivan's extradition, and Mr. Hill informed him that he could do nothing about it until the pugilist had been arrested. This occasioned some delay, and in the meantime Sullivan appears to have been informed of what was happening, for when the detective called upon him at the Vanderbilt hotel last evening, he found the pugilist prepared to give himself up, and feeling glad that the suspense was over. He is under arrest because he did not improve the excellent opportunity to escape which the long drawn out proceedings had afforded him. There may be some surprise and disgust high up in Democratic councils that the big man did not get away.

We suppose Gov. Hill will honor the requisition of Gov. Lowry and start the pugilist on the way to Mississippi, legally and correctly extradited. He need not do this. The penalty for what Sullivan did in this state by preparing for the fight and then departing to engage in it is the same as that of Mississippi for actual prize fighting, save that the fine is $500 instead of $1,000. Sullivan's muscle could be retained in one of the prisons of this state for a year, and his fine would be just as valuable in New York's treasury as Mississippi's. But to punish him according to law would break up the Democratic party here by alienating the pugilistic and gambling element and creating unhappiness among the saloons, of which he and his friends are generous patrons. So he will be started towards Mississippi. And then bets will be offered at big odds that he will never get there.

THE TARIFF AND COMMERCE.

Ruinous Effect of Free Trade Threats—Imports Increased and Exports Diminished.

[From the Utica Herald.]

The report by the Bureau of Statistics of our foreign commerce for the fiscal year ending with June 30 last, is an eloquent argument against the overthrow of the protective system. For the figures show that the value of merchandise imported is greater than in any previous year in our history, and since prices are in all branches now very low, this excess signifies an increase of vast extent. Our imports of merchandise were in 1860 $353,616,119; in 1870 they were with high prices $435,958,408, and they became $667,954,746 in 1880. The highest figures they ever reached before the year just closed, were $723,180,914, in 1882, and they have now run up in the fiscal year 1888–'89 to $745,127,476. Surely in the condition of our markets, nothing should be done to increase unnaturally this flood of foreign goods coming in to compete with the products of our own artisans.

The damage which has been done to our export trade by the threats in Washington to overthrow our revenue system can not well be estimated. Foreign producers have become encouraged in the belief that our markets were to be thrown wide open to all the world, and especially to dealers in "cheap and nasty wares," while notice was served on our wool growers and manufacturers in every department that the foundations on which their industries were established were to be torn up, and the protection afforded by our revenue laws was to be destroyed. So the exports, which were $902,377,346 in 1881, fell in the three years affected by the Cleveland administration and the Mills-Carlisle discussions, to $679,524,830 in 1886, to $716,183,211 in 1887, and to $695,954,597 in 1888. While only a part of the past year has been affected by the demonstration that the protective system is to be maintained, the period since November has been long enough to give hope and courage to industry, and the exports for the fiscal year 1889 ran up to $742,401,799.

The credit balance of trade, which was $259,712,718 in 1881, passed to the adverse side in 1888, to the amount of $28,002,607, and continues in 1889 on that side, but now amounts only to $2,725,677. But without the change of a letter of statute, by the construction of the laws in the spirit in which they are made, the impetus has been given to increased home production, with restriction on unfair competition from abroad. Here in Utica, this change is fully appreciated in the imposition on worsted cloths of the duties conceded to be rightful even by Mr. Cleveland and his Secretary of the Treasury, and yet never collected at the correct rates, until under the construction of Secretary Windom.

While our importations are at the highest standard ever reached, and domestic enterprise is starting out on new ventures in every direction, the time is opportune to continue the work of adjusting the revenue laws so well begun by the Senate. Only the most purblind theorist will plead that lower duties are necessary to bring in all the foreign merchandise that our people can pay for in the face of these instructive figures. The current of trade flows strongly enough into our ports. The need is to foster our own industries. Capital and labor are already assured that the war on our protective system can produce no result for four years to come. That assurance is a guarantee of extended production and increased trade at home, of healthful business, and of good times on a solid, conservative basis.

PUBLIC OPINION.

We shall begin to believe in holding the World's fair in New York, when we see the $10,000,000 guarantee fund all subscribed by New Yorkers. Gothamite talk is very cheap.—Springfield Union.

The New Jersey woman who talked too much has been fined $25. She can console herself with reflection that it cost Grover Cleveland $10,000 and the Presidency to do the same thing.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Cleveland-Hill feud in this state already assumes the appearance of two cats tied together and slung over a clothes line. Grover and David will divest each other of every particle of fur by 1892; and neither will be in a presentable condition for the national convention.—Albany Journal.

In one respect at least South Dakota is admirably qualified for statehood. The average illiteracy among the white people of the United States is 11 9-10 per cent. In South Dakota it is but 4 2-10 per cent. This is due to the enlightened policy that has provided a superb educational system for the territory. And perhaps it explains why the new state will be stanchly Republican.—Troy Times.

GENERAL NEWS MATTER

TELEGRAPH, CABLE AND MAIL NEWS AND CHAT-BY-THE-WAY.

Scotland's New Portrait Gallery—Brazil and The United States—Governor Beaver Visits Every County in Pennsylvania—Personal Mention Concerning Prominent People.

The Edinburgh [Scotch] correspondent of the London Times writes: "The new National Portrait Gallery for Scotland was opened to-day by the Marquis of Lothian. Among those present at the opening were the Lord Justice-General, the Lord Justice Clerk, the Earl of Wemyss, the Earl of Stair, the Earl of Glasgow, the Hon. Bouverie Primrose, C. B., the Lord Provosts of Edinburgh and Glasgow, Lord Shand, Lord Young, Lord Trayner, Lord M'Laren, Lord Adam, Lord Kinnear, J. R. Findlay, Sir James G. Baird, Sir George Warrender, General Sir R. Murdoch Smith, Sir William Fettes Douglas, Principal Sir William Muir, Sir Douglas Maclagan, Sir William Turner, Sir William Walker, C. B., Sir Thomas Boyd and Sir Arthur Mitchell. The gallery will be a substantial addition to the public attractions of Edinburgh and will, at the same time, present Scottish art and Scottish history in a new and valuable light. The institution, as is now pretty well known, owes its origin to private munificence. In the end of 1882, the donor, until to-day anonymous, but now known to be John Ritchie Findlay, chief proprietor of the Scotsman, offered to the Board of Manufacturers for Scotland a sum of £10,000 to aid in the establishment of a Scottish National Portrait Gallery, on condition that a similar sum should be contributed by the Treasury, and the grant to that amount was at once voted by Parliament. In 1884, Mr. Findlay offered to provide what ever funds were necessary to erect a building for the accommodation of the portrait gallery and of the National Museum of Antiquities, on condition that a suitable and isolated site should be provided. The site at the east end of Queen-street was accordingly purchased at a cost of £7,500, of which £5,000 was voted by Parliament, while the remainder was provided by the Board of Manufacturers out of their own funds. The building, for which Dr. Rowand Anderson prepared the plans, was at once begun, and it is now so far advanced towards completion that the collection of works of art belonging to the Board, with the addition of a considerable number of loan pictures, has been placed in two of the galleries for public exhibition. The style of architecture adopted may be described generally as the Gothic of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries. The building is suggestive, in its broader aspects, of the Doge's palace at Venice, though lacking the variety of color with which Canaletto has familiarized the world. It occupies a rectangular site about 250 feet long by 50 feet in breadth, and consists of three stories. The most striking features of the external ornamentation are canopied niches for statuary in the northern fecade and pointed turrets at the four angles. A handsome entrance-hall divides the building into two nearly equal portions, of which the eastern is assigned to the Society of Antiquaries and the western to the portrait gallery. The entrance-hall, with its lofty pointed arches and its elegant balustrade and gallery, forms an admirable feature of the internal design, the weakest point in which, undoubtedly, is the low arching of the staircase. The three galleries in the top story, which are lighted from the roof, are by far the finest in the building, but considerations of convenience have led the Board to form the exhibition at present in the two galleries of the middle story. These are at once separated and connected by an arcade of three pointed arches, and are lighted from the two sides, an arrangement which leads in some cases to a conflict of lights. To increase the wall space screens have been projected into the rooms between the windows."

The Rio News, of Brazil, says: "The new Cabinet, it would seem, has resolved to carry out the negotiation of a commercial treaty with the United States, which has been under consideration during the last 18 months. To this end Senator Lafayette Rodrigues Pereira has been nominated Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary on a special mission to that country, and will proceed there at once, perhaps by the first steamer. The new Minister is known as one of the ablest jurists in Brazil, and has already filled one important special mission abroad—that of arbitrator in the settlement of foreign claims against Chili. He has twice held Cabinet positions—that of Minister of Justice and that of Prime Minister. With the Portfolio of Finance, he is a member of the Council of State, a Senator from the Province of Minas Geraes, and is a man of more than ordinary influence in administrative circles. Up to the time of his accepting a Cabinet position, less than 10 years ago, he was a prominent Republican. Since then he has been connected with the Liberal party, and has been an ardent defender of the monarchy. It is certainly an auspicious sign that Brazil should send so prominent a man to negotiate this proposed treaty and to represent the empire at the approaching American Congress in Washington. Senator Lafayette will be accompanied by Dr. Salvador de Mendonca, the well-known Brazilian Consul-General in New-York, and perhaps by another representative. He will, of course, be assisted by Minister Valente, recently appointed Minister to the United States. It is satisfactory that Brazil is to be so ably represented at Washington this year, for the approaching Congresses and the tendency to closer relationship between the various American States render the time one of peculiar importance. In addition to this, the possibility of the reference of a long-standing dispute to the President of the United States for arbitration renders it necessary that Brazil should be represented there by a jurist of more than ordinary ability."

The following remedy for hydrophobia is given by G. Pigot as having long been used successfully in the Island of Skye: "Boil one handful of the leaves of Datura stramonium, or thornapple, in one pint of water, till the mass is reduced to one-half. Strain the fluid through a fine white cloth, and administer it in one dose. If difficult to swallow, it must be forced down the throat. Before long violent paroxysms will ensue, accompanied by copious perspiration; then sleep for eight hours will follow, and the patient will be free from rabies."

"The authors are so pleased with the success of their dinner last week," says the London Athenæum, "that they think of having a conversazione. The only London publisher who was present at the Society's dinner was confined to his room by illness for some days afterwards, but he has recovered, and is again to be seen in the Row."

Governor Beaver of Pennsylvania determined when he assumed his present office, to visit every county in the Keystone State. He has just completed his task by his visit to Pike County. As there are over 60 counties in Pennsylvania he has been obliged to do a vast amount of traveling to effect his purpose.

Many Christian families are arriving in Athens daily from Crete, having fled from the island on account of the uprising there. Two British men-of-war are expected soon at Suda Bay.

Among the Americans recently in London was Miss Catharine Willard. This handsome and gifted young woman was a schoolmate of Mrs. Cleveland and made a long visit to the White House.

Amelie Rives-Chanler has not attracted much attention on the other side of the water. She went over at a time when she was thrown into competition with a good many prominent Americans.

The Wiener Allgemeine Zeitung asserts that a definite offensive and defensive alliance has been concluded between France and Russia.

GENERAL NEWS MATTER

TELEGRAPH, CABLE AND MAIL NEWS AND CHAT-BY-THE-WAY.

Scotland's New Portrait Gallery—Brazil and The United States—Governor Beaver Visits Every County in Pennsylvania—Personal Mention Concerning Prominent People.

The Edinburgh [Scotch] correspondent of the London Times writes: "The new National Portrait Gallery for Scotland was opened to-day by the Marquis of Lothian. Among those present at the opening were the Lord Justice-General, the Lord Justice Clerk, the Earl of Wemyss, the Earl of Stair, the Earl of Glasgow, the Hon. Bouverie Primrose, C. B., the Lord Provosts of Edinburgh and Glasgow, Lord Shand, Lord Young, Lord Trayner, Lord M'Laren, Lord Adam, Lord Kinnear, J. R. Findlay, Sir James G. Baird, Sir George Warrender, General Sir R. Murdoch Smith, Sir William Fettes Douglas, Principal Sir William Muir, Sir Douglas Maclagan, Sir William Turner, Sir William Walker, C. B., Sir Thomas Boyd and Sir Arthur Mitchell. The gallery will be a substantial addition to the public attractions of Edinburgh and will, at the same time, present Scottish art and Scottish history in a new and valuable light. The institution, as is now pretty well known, owes its origin to private munificence. In the end of 1882, the donor, until to-day anonymous, but now known to be John Ritchie Findlay, chief proprietor of the Scotsman, offered to the Board of Manufacturers for Scotland a sum of £10,000 to aid in the establishment of a Scottish National Portrait Gallery, on condition that a similar sum should be contributed by the Treasury, and the grant to that amount was at once voted by Parliament. In 1884, Mr. Findlay offered to provide whatever funds were necessary to erect a building for the accommodation of the portrait gallery and of the National Museum of Antiquities, on condition that a suitable and isolated site should be provided. The site at the east end of Queen-street was accordingly purchased at a cost of £7,500, of which £5,000 was voted by Parliament, while the remainder was provided by the Board of Manufacturers out of their own funds. The building, for which Dr. Rowand Anderson prepared the plans, was at once begun, and it is now so far advanced towards completion that the collection of works of art belonging to the Board, with the addition of a considerable number of loan pictures, has been placed in two of the galleries for public exhibition. The style of architecture adopted may be described generally as the Gothic of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries. The building is suggestive, in its broader aspects, of the Doge's palace at Venice, though lacking the variety of color with which Canaletto has familiarized the world. It occupies a rectangular site about 250 feet long by 50 feet in breadth, and consists of three stories. The most striking features of the external ornamentation are canopied niches for statuary in the northern fecade and pointed turrets at the four angles. A handsome entrance-hall divides the building into two nearly equal portions, of which the eastern is assigned to the Society of Antiquaries and the western to the portrait gallery. The entrance-hall, with its lofty pointed arches and its elegant balustrade and gallery, forms an admirable feature of the internal design, the weakest point in which, undoubtedly, is the low arching of the staircase. The three galleries in the top story, which are lighted from the roof, are by far the finest in the building, but considerations of convenience have led the Board to form the exhibition at present in the two galleries of the middle story. These are at once separated and connected by an arcade of three pointed arches, and are lighted from the two sides, an arrangement which leads in some cases to a conflict of lights. To increase the wall space screens have been projected into the rooms between the windows."

The Rio News, of Brazil, says: "The new Cabinet, it would seem, has resolved to carry out the negotiation of a commercial treaty with the United States, which has been under consideration during the last 18 months. To this end Senator Lafayette Rodrigues Pereira has been nominated Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary on a special mission to that country, and will proceed there at once, perhaps by the first steamer. The new Minister is known as one of the ablest jurists in Brazil, and has already filled one important special mission abroad—that of arbitrator in the settlement of foreign claims against Chili. He has twice held Cabinet positions—that of Minister of Justice and that of Prime Minister. With the Portfolio of Finance, he is a member of the Council of State, a Senator from the Province of Minas Geraes, and is a man of more than ordinary influence in administrative circles. Up to the time of his accepting a Cabinet position, less than 10 years ago, he was a prominent Republican. Since then he has been connected with the Liberal party, and has been an ardent defender of the monarchy. It is certainly an auspicious sign that Brazil should send so prominent a man to negotiate this proposed treaty and to represent the empire at the approaching American Congress in Washington. Senator Lafayette will be accompanied by Dr. Salvador de Mendonca, the well-known Brazilian Consul-General in New-York, and perhaps by another representative. He will, of course, be assisted by Minister Valente, recently appointed Minister to the United States. It is satisfactory that Brazil is to be so ably represented at Washington this year, for the approaching Congresses and the tendency to closer relationship between the various American States render the time one of peculiar importance. In addition to this, the possibility of the reference of a long-standing dispute to the President of the United States for arbitration renders it necessary that Brazil should be represented there by a jurist of more than ordinary ability."

The following remedy for hydrophobia is given by G. Pigot as having long been used successfully in the Island of Skye: "Boil one handful of the leaves of Datura stramonium, or thornapple, in one pint of water, till the mass is reduced to one-half. Strain the fluid through a fine white cloth, and administer it in one dose. If difficult to swallow, it must be forced down the throat. Before long violent paroxysms will ensue, accompanied by copious perspiration; then sleep for eight hours will follow, and the patient will be free from rabies."

"The authors are so pleased with the success of their dinner last week," says the London Athenæum, "that they think of having a conversazione. The only London publisher who was present at the Society's dinner was confined to his room by illness for some days afterwards, but he has recovered, and is again to be seen in the Row."

Governor Beaver of Pennsylvania determined when he assumed his present office, to visit every county in the Keystone State. He has just completed his task by his visit to Pike County. As there are over 60 counties in Pennsylvania he has been obliged to do a vast amount of traveling to effect his purpose.

Many Christian families are arriving in Athens daily from Crete, having fled from the island on account of the uprising there. Two British men-of-war are expected soon at Suda Bay.

Among the Americans recently in London was Miss Catharine Willard. This handsome and gifted young woman was a schoolmate of Mrs. Cleveland and made a long visit to the White House.

Amelie Rives-Chanler has not attracted much attention on the other side of the water. She went over at a time when she was thrown into competition with a good many prominent Americans.

The Wiener Allgemeine Zeitung asserts that a definite offensive and defensive alliance has been concluded between France and Russia.

Russell Harrison and the Massachusetts riflemen have been entertained by Buffalo Bill at his Wild West camp in Paris.

The New-York World says: "Not having obtained a vindication. General Boulanger will continue his vacation."

Governor Ames of Massachusetts is slowly recovering his health.

GENERAL NEWS MATTER

TELEGRAPH, CABLE AND MAIL NEWS AND CHAT-BY-THE-WAY.

Scotland's New Portrait Gallery—Brazil and The United States—Governor Beaver Visits Every County in Pennsylvania—Personal Mention Concerning Prominent People.

The Edinburgh [Scotch] correspondent of the London Times writes: "The new National Portrait Gallery for Scotland was opened to-day by the Marquis of Lothian. Among those present at the opening were the Lord Justice-General, the Lord Justice Clerk, the Earl of Wemyss, the Earl of Stair, the Earl of Glasgow, the Hon. Bouverie Primrose, C. B., the Lord Provosts of Edinburgh and Glasgow, Lord Shand, Lord Young, Lord Trayner, Lord M'Laren, Lord Adam, Lord Kinnear, J. R. Findlay, Sir James G. Baird, Sir George Warrender, General Sir R. Murdoch Smith, Sir William Fettes Douglas, Principal Sir William Muir, Sir Douglas Maclagan, Sir William Turner, Sir William Walker, C. B., Sir Thomas Boyd and Sir Arthur Mitchell. The gallery will be a substantial addition to the public attractions of Edinburgh and will, at the same time, present Scottish art and Scottish history in a new and valuable light. The institution, as is now pretty well known, owes its origin to private munificence. In the end of 1882, the donor, until to-day anonymous, but now known to be John Ritchie Findlay, chief proprietor of the Scotsman, offered to the Board of Manufacturers for Scotland a sum of £10,000 to aid in the establishment of a Scottish National Portrait Gallery, on condition that a similar sum should be contributed by the Treasury, and the grant to that amount was at once voted by Parliament. In 1884, Mr. Findlay offered to provide what ever funds were necessary to erect a building for the accommodation of the portrait gallery and of the National Museum of Antiquities, on condition that a suitable and isolated site should be provided. The site at the east end of Queen-street was accordingly purchased at a cost of £7,500, of which £5,000 was voted by Parliament, while the remainder was provided by the Board of Manufacturers out of their own funds. The building, for which Dr. Rowand Anderson prepared the plans, was at once begun, and it is now so far advanced towards completion that the collection of works of art belonging to the Board, with the addition of a considerable number of loan pictures, has been placed in two of the galleries for public exhibition. The style of architecture adopted may be described generally as the Gothic of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries. The building is suggestive, in its broader aspects, of the Doge's palace at Venice, though lacking the variety of color with which Canaletto has familiarized the world. It occupies a rectangular site about 250 feet long by 50 feet in breadth, and consists of three stories. The most striking features of the external ornamentation are canopied niches for statuary in the northern facade and pointed turrets at the four angles. A handsome entrance-hall divides the building into two nearly equal portions, of which the eastern is assigned to the Society of Antiquaries and the western to the portrait gallery. The central hall, with its lofty pointed arches and its elegant balustrade and gallery, forms an admirable feature of the internal design, the weakest point in which, undoubtedly, is the low arching of the staircase. The three galleries in the top story, which are lighted from the roof, are by far the finest in the building, but considerations of convenience have led the Board to form the exhibition at present in the two galleries of the middle story. These are at once separated and connected by an arcade of three pointed arches, and are lighted from the two sides, an arrangement which leads in some cases to a conflict of lights. To increase the wall space screens have been projected into the rooms between the windows."

The Rio News, of Brazil, says: "The new Cabinet, it would seem, has resolved to carry out the negotiation of a commercial treaty with the United States, which has been under consideration during the last 18 months. To this end Senator Lafayette Rodrigues Pereira has been nominated Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary on a special mission to that country, and will proceed there at once, perhaps by the first steamer. The new Minister is known as one of the ablest jurists in Brazil, and has already filled one important special mission abroad—that of arbitrator in the settlement of foreign claims against Chili. He has twice held Cabinet positions—that of Minister of Justice and that of Prime Minister. With the Portfolio of Finance, he is a member of the Council of State, a Senator from the Province of Minas Geraes, and is a man of more than ordinary influence in administrative circles. Up to the time of his accepting a Cabinet position, less than 10 years ago, he was a prominent Republican. Since then he has been connected with the Liberal party, and has been an ardent defender of the monarchy. It is certainly an auspicious sign that Brazil should send so prominent a man to negotiate this proposed treaty and to represent the empire at the approaching American Congress in Washington. Senator Lafayette will be accompanied by Dr. Salvador de Mendonca, the well-known Brazilian Consul-General in New-York, and perhaps by another representative. He will, of course, be assisted by Minister Valente, recently appointed Minister to the United States. It is satisfactory that Brazil is to be so ably represented at Washington this year, for the approaching Congresses and the tendency to closer relationship between the various American States render the time one of peculiar importance In addition to this, the possibility of the reference of a long-standing dispute to the President of the United States for arbitration renders it necessary that Brazil should be represented there by a jurist of more than ordinary ability."

The following remedy for hydrophobia is given by G. Pigot as having long been used successfully in the Island of Skye: "Boil one handful of the leaves of Datura stramonium, or thornapple, in one pint of water, till the mass is reduced to one-half. Strain the fluid through a fine white cloth, and administer it in one dose. If difficult to swallow, it must be forced down the throat. Before long violent paroxysms will ensue, accompanied by copious perspiration; then sleep for eight hours will follow, and the patient will be free from rabies."

"The authors are so pleased with the success of their dinner last week," says the London Athenæum, "that they think of having a conversazione. The only London publisher who was present at the Society's dinner was confined to his room by illness for some days afterwards, but he has recovered, and is again to be seen in the Row."

Governor Beaver of Pennsylvania determined when he assumed his present office, to visit every county in the Keystone State. He has just completed his task by his visit to Pike County. As there are over 60 counties in Pennsylvania he has been obliged to do a vast amount of traveling to effect his purpose.

Many Christian families are arriving in Athens daily from Crete, having fled from the island on account of the uprising there. Two British men-of-war are expected soon at Suda Bay.

Among the Americans recently in London was Miss Catharine Willard. This handsome and gifted young woman was a schoolmate of Mrs. Cleveland and made a long visit to the White House.

Amelie Rives-Chanler has not attracted much attention on the other side of the water. She went over at a time when she was thrown into competition with a good many prominent Americans.

The Wiener Allgemeine Zeitung asserts that a definite offensive and defensive alliance has been concluded between France and Russia.

Russell Harrison and the Massachusetts riflemen have been entertained by Buffalo Bill at his Wild West camp in Paris.

The New-York World says: "Not having obtained a vindication. General Boulanger will continue his vacation."

Governor Ames of Massachusetts is slowly recovering his health.

A word in regard to our presents. They are not given by us, at least, to cover the sale of poor goods, but are a part of our profits which we return to our customers for their steady patronage. The Teas and Coffees we sell are a better quality than could be purchased at any store for the same or even a higher price and we are a local concern and live here among you and your interests are ours also.

IN AND ABOUT THIS TOWN.

MEN, MATTERS AND PROJECTS BRIEFLY PARAGRAPHED.

Real Estate Note—That Shooting Accident—Information of Interest to Hunters—One Man Who Imbibed Frequently—Potatoes Rotting in the Ground—That Steam Roller.

The hunting season is at hand. A number of Kingston City woodcock hunters started out to-day to shoot birds. They said that owing to the wet weather, woodcock were "scattered." Because of the many mistakes so often made in the publishing of game laws by newspapers, THE FREEMAN herewith publishes in condensed form laws that affect Ulster County and vicinity:

No person shall hunt, kill, chase nor take alive any wild deer in any part of this State save only from August 15 to November 16. Deer cannot be pursued with dogs except from Septemper 1 to October 20.

No person shall kill any wild duck, goose or brant between May 1 and September 1. No gun can be used except such as are habitually raised at arm's length and fired from the shoulder. Wild fowls cannot be shot from any vessel propelled by steam or sails, and no floating battery or device shall be used for the purpose of decoying at a greater distance than 20 rods from the shore.

No person shall kill quail between January 1 and November 1. Hare or rabbit between February 1 and November 1, which proviso does not apply to occupants or owners of nurseries or orchards.

Woodcock can be killed between August 1 and January 1, and black and gray squirrels between August 1 and February 1.

No person shall kill partridges except from September 1 to January 1.

Robins, meadow lark and starlings can only be killed during the months of October, November and December. Eagles, woodpecker, night hawk, yellow bird, wren, marten, oriole, or any song bird, cannot be killed at any time, except for the purpose of studying the habits or history of these birds, stuffing them as specimens, or for destroying fruit and grapes on a person's own premises.

Trout can be caught in Ulster County from May 1 to September 13.

Shooting, hunting and trapping on Sunday is prohibited.

Black bass, under the State law, weighing not less than half a pound or less than eight inches in length can be caught from May 30 to January 1. Black and Oswego bass and pike perch between May 30 and January 1.

No person shall kill, wound or trap any bird, deer, squirrel, rabbit or any other animal within the limits of any cemetery or public burying ground, or of any public park or pleasure ground, or remove the young of any such animal or the eggs of any such bird from such place under a penalty of a fine of $250 or six months imprisonment.

An act of the Board of Supervisors of Ulster County applying to the Esopus Creek is as follows:

Fishing by fair angling or trolling for any kind of fish in said waters is authorized and permitted from May 30 to December 1.

Another act contains the following:

The catching of pickerel, black or Oswego bass, or yellow perch out of the two Binnewaters in the town of Esopus during the months of December, January, February, March and April is prohibited.

No person shall catch or kill any fish except minnows, bull-heads, eels, suckers and catfish in fresh waters by any device except hook and line, except in the Wallkill River, in the County of Ulster, where suckers and eels can be caught with a single fyke, meshes not less than one inch, during the months of March, April, October and November.

It is again stated that certain amendments have been made to Chapter 245, General School Laws of this State, changing the time of holding the annual school meeting, and also altering the date on which the school year is to close. It provides that school meetings shall hereafter be held on the first Tuesday in August instead of the last Tuesday of that month, at 7:30 instead of 7 o'clock. It also provides that the school year shall close upon July 25, instead of August 20. The school reports this year will be made to conform to the change. In all school districts in Ulster County and all counties along the Hudson River, except Westchester, in which the number of school age exceeds 300, District Officers must be elected by ballot on the Wednesday next after the first Tuesday in August, between the hours of 12 o'clock noon and 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The New-York World of to-day says:

This has been a most peculiar season from a meteorological standpoint. Whether the spots on the sun can account for the stormy features of the year, or whether the peculiar conjunction of the planets is responsible, is for cranks to determine. The fact remains that here in the East there have been more cyclones, cloudbursts, floods and disasters than are at all usual or welcome. It will be a great thing for humanity when science can not only predict but control the weather.

By the way, didn't the World try to throw mud at the statement printed in THE FREEMAN, the other day, that sun spots had been seen here. Colonel Cockerill and News Editor Chambers are forgiven; but don't let it occur again!

Owing to the prevalent dampness, when an electric button in the Uptown Post-Office is "touched," for the purpose of calling a clerk, it remains depressed and the bell continues to ring until some one pulls the button back in place. At times all the bells are ringing, as if "possessed."

In "old times" there was a "hue and cry" Down-town when the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company announced its intention of putting steam in use on its docks here to hoist coal. It was said the force of laborers would be decreased. The result was the force was nearly doubled. "He who runs may read."

Three lots, 50x150 feet, part of the estate of William VanAken, situated on Washington-avenue, were sold at Executor's sale Wednesday. W. Scott Gillispie, Peter Aldridge and Frank Thompson each purchased a lot. Two lots brought $580 each; the other $575.

A large cess-pool within a few feet of the cistern into which that "new steam roller of ours" tumbled yesterday, is the cause of some apprehension. It is also feared that cess pools may cave in under the weight of the roller aforesaid.

The first "office" used by the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company Down-town was a room in an old stone farm house which stood on the site where "Clinton Hall and Hotel" were erected. The next office was built of stone.

John Rich, a teamster, employed at the stone yard of Julius Osterhoudt, Wilbur, one day this week hit his head against a descending sand-tub, and was slightly injured. The story that he was badly hurt is nonsense.

The accident to "that steam roller of ours" was hailed with delight by the members of the "United Order of the Sons of Rest." They were present in force and volunteered advice to the Street Superintendent.

A Marbletown farmer who was in town to-day said that out of six bushels of potatoes that he had dug on a field on his farm nearly half were rotten. The cause, he said, was "too much rain."

A test of a nozzle for use of Fire Department was made by Chief Engineer Derrenbacher at Derrenbacher's Corners last evening. The test, it is said, was satisfactory.

During the trial of a law-suit in this City recently, a witness testified that he saw a resident "drink whiskey at a bar 5,500 times in three years."

Isaac Carman has been appointed Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for this District. He took possession of the office to-day.

William Schubeck, who was accidently shot by George Bennett, while at the "Kiersted pond," yesterday, is still alive.

The gymnasium of the Young Men's Catholic Literary Society will be completed in the near future.

"Eureka, Jones, I have found perpetual motion." "What is it, Brown?" "The rain."

The City Assessors will meet August 20 to hear grievances and to review the assessment roll.

Rain has prevented hundreds of men from working on brickyards in this vicinity.

Once more, it is the same old story: More rain hereabout promised for Friday.

On Friday night the members of Cornell Hose Company will hold a meeting.

HOURS OF SUMMER RECREATION.

Outings at Points Up and Down the Hudson River and in this City.

The excursion of the Spring-Street Lutheran Sunday Schools on the barge Sarah Smith to Cole's Grove, near Catskill, to-day, was largely attended. The members of the schools headed by the Rev. A. Schmidtkonz, the Pastor, and Conrad Hiltebrandt, the Superintendent, and the Pythian Band, marched from the Church to the barge.

On October 16 the members of Rapid Hose Company will make an excursion to Newburgh and participate in the annual parade and inspection of the Fire Department of that City.

The members of the Newburgh Young Men's Christian Association will make a moonlight excursion to this City on the steamboat Jacob H. Tremper on August 13.

To-day Ellenville people went on an excursion to Coney Island, via the New-York, Ontario & Western Railroad and the steamboat Mary Powell.

The members of the Down-town Young Men's Christian Association Boys' Branch will go on an outing to Legg's Mills on Saturday.

Division No. 3, Ancient Order of Hibernians, will make an excursion to Oscawana Island on Thursday, August 15.

On Tuesday evening a moonlight excursion will be given on the Hudson River, "under the management of Charles A. Anderson."

Pratt Post, G. A. R., will go on an excursion on the steamer "City of Kingston" on August 14.

The picnic of the Hauck Gymnasium Club has been postponed until Monday.

TWO ACCIDENTS ON THE D. & H. CANAL

Propeller Sammy Cornell Breaks its Wheel and Boat No. 193 Sinks.

Wednesday was an eventful day on the Delaware & Hudson Canal between Eddyville and Creek Locks. The water was so high in the Upper Creek that the propeller Sammy Cornell was used to tow boats between those places. While engaged in this work its wheel broke and the propeller Ettie Wright was substituted in its place. While Boat No. 193 was being towed it ran on a rock, stove a hole into its bottom and sunk. The wreck obstructed navigation at that point. An attempt was made to-day to raise the boat.

ALONG THE DOCKS HERE.

Only six Delaware & Hudson Canal boats, laden with 810 tons of coal reached tide-water at Eddyville yesterday. The cause was an accident in the canal between Eddyville and Creek Locks.

The new steam launch Meta, owned by Commodore Bartlett, of Newburgh, is nearly ready to be launched. Its dimensions are: Length, 69 feet; beam nine feet.

The whistle of the steamboat James W. Baldwin was blown at the mouth of the Rondout Creek at 11:09 o'clock last night.

The Cornwall ferry-boat Storm King is being repaired at Marvel's shipyard, Newburgh.

The lighter Brittania is undergoing repairs at the Marvel shipyard, Newburgh.

That Whirlwind.

The Poughkeepsie News-Press says:

Ulster County stories of stoves, oak trees and cattle being carried miles by the cyclone that ravished Bayly's Gap on Tuesday are coming along with a rush. The truth is that the force of the wind was spent on the mountain at Pancake Hollow. If it had not been so spent a wide swath would have been cut through Highland village, which was directly in the cyclone's path.

THE FREEMAN said this last evening:

Eye-witnesses say that if the spur of the Marlborough Mountains had not broken the force of the gale, the entire village of Centerville would have been swept away.

The News Press when it refers to Ulster County storms, it is presumed refers to the daily newspaper of Ulster County—THE FREEMAN. Editor Homen will please note in his usual accurate way.

The storm also struck the northern part of Dutchess County, destroying fences and uprooting trees. All the streams in Dutchess County are heavily swollen and crops are damaged.

The Local Death Record.

Yesterday the funeral of George, the 10-year-old son of Frederick Stoerzer, took place, the Rev. A. Schmidtkonz officiating. The boy died of diphtheria. Three other children are ill.

The members of the Rondout Young Men's Christian Association will meet at the rooms at 2:15 o'clock to-morrow afternoon for the purpose of attending the funeral of George Deyo.

News has been received here of the death of Mrs. J. Wolff, a former resident of this City, in New-York yesterday.

George E. VanEtten, a son of Augustus VanEtten, died last night. Mr. VanEtten was 28 years of age.

Journalistic.

A. W. Lyman, who for several years has had charge of the Washington Bureau of the New-York Sun, has purchased a controlling interest in the Helena Independent, of Montana, a Democratic paper, and took possession to-day.

Does any one know of a meaner or more persistent news-thief than the Albany Argus? If so kindly send address to this office.

John A. Mason's Harlem Reporter has started a fund for the erection of a monument to Christopher Columbus.

James Gordon Bennett is once more at the helm of the New-York Herald.

[From the Hudson Register.]

The "pin-feather rooster" of the ——— is seeking notoriety by poking his head through a fence and trying to crow. If his head continues to swell, he will not be able to pull it back through the pickets some day.

In the Church Porch.

A memorial service in honor of the memory of the late Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes will be held by the members of the Up-town Women's Christian Temperance Union on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the St. James M. E. Church.

This evening a meeting of the Society of Christian Endeavor of the Elmendorf-Street Presbyterian Church will be held.

The fund for St. George Chapel on Broadway, Newburgh, has reached $8,000.

The Rev. Dr. I. Magee has gone to the Green Mountains for a few weeks.

In Recorder's Court To-Day.

On complaint of P. J. O'Pray a warrant was issued for the arrest of a man named Jesse Shears. O'Pray said that Shears entered his place last evening, stole a decanter of wine and made good his escape.

John McMahon, for assaulting Officer Gregory, was sentenced to 30 days in the Ulster County Jail.

A Dog Worth Owning.

The "day and night watch" on the excursion barge Sarah Smith is a 90-pound bulldog. The canine is not "ugly." The Captain of the barge said this morning that one day recently two children fell into the Hudson River at Barrytown. The dog rescued them.

What a Child Said.

A family "On-the-Hill," one member of which is a three-and-a-half-year-old girl, had mashed potatoes for dinner to-day. The little tot handed her mother her plate with the request to "please put toome packed potaters on it?"

Crops Injured by Rain.

The continued rains and the prevailing humidity is doing much damage to crops in Ulster and adjoining counties. Potatoes are rotting in the ground and other farm products are being more or less damaged.

To Prosecute Offenders.

It is said that Counsel for the Board of Alms Commissioners has instituted suits against certain persons for violations of the excise laws.

SUBURBAN HAPPENINGS.

THE NEWS IN 'LONG SHORE AND INLAND COUNTIES.

At Washington's Headquarters, Newburgh—A Lunatics Wanderings—What Correspondents of "The Daily Freeman" Find to Write About These Wet, Muggy Days, Etc.

THE FREEMAN desires to make this department as complete and comprehensive as possible, and to this end invites its readers in places not represented by regular correspondents to communicate news.

THE HUDSON RIVER AND INLAND.

A dispatch from Newburgh to the New-York Times reads: "The Trustees of Washington Headquarters have been presented for preservation at Headquarters a manuscript written by Colonel A. Thompson, from Fort Rensselaer, in the Mohawk Valley, dated February 24, 1783, descriptive of the failure of an expedition ordered by General Washington from his Headquarters in this City, also a copper tea-kettle that has been in constant use in one family for 125 years. It was originally the property of Mrs. Matthew Jansen, of Shawangunk."

Thomas Pollard, a Fishkill blacksmith, in attempting to "hit a man" on the Newburgh ferry-boat the other day thrust his fist through a large plate-glass in one of the boat's doors. An artery was severed in his arm. He came near bleeding to death.

Herman Koble, of Port-Jervis, who sent his daughter to Germany to spend two or three years at Bromberg for educational purposes, will be compelled to establish the fact by affidavit that his daughter is an American.

There were 1,137 visitors at Washington's Headquarters at Newburgh last week.

There were six street fights in Newburgh in one day recently.

Bloomingdale Jottings.

The Rev. F. M. Bogardus left town on Thursday for a three-weeks' vacation. Mr. Bogardus preached on Sunday in the Presbyterian Church at Pine Plains, of which his brother, the Rev. William H. Bogardus, is Pastor.

The Rev. James M. Compton preached in the Church here on Sunday morning. The evening service was conducted by William Bush. Mr. Compton is expected to preach here again next Sunday.

The funeral of William Decker, of Wilbur, was held here on Wednesday afternoon. The Rev. Eli Quick, of the Eddyville M. E. Church, officiated.

The Sunday School picnic which was to have been held Tuesday was postponed on account of the storm, much to the disappointment of the children.

The party held at Good Templar Hall on Thursday evening was largely attended. The Whiteport Band was present.

The funeral of George Youmans was held on Friday.

Wallkill Affairs.

Fishing in the Wallkill is excellent. Judging from the number of people passing through the streets yesterday carrying poles, half the populace must have gone fishing.

A Presbyterian clergyman, the Rev. J. Burnett, of Newburgh, preached in the lecture room of the church last Sunday. His sermon was an able one.

A festival was held at "The Plains" school house on Tuesday evening by the Christian Endeavor Society of that place.

A band stand is being erected on the "Bank Circle." Money for it was raised by subscription.

The grape crop is expected to be a failure here on account of wet weather.

NEWS FROM POINTS FAR AND NEAR.

Tidings in Brief that the Telegraph, Cable and Mail Have Brought.

Emperor William of Germany combines business with pleasure on his yacht. He is "on deck" at 8 o'clock in the morning, and spends the day in eating, smoking, writing and talking. He paces up and down with a telescope under his arm and a poor cigar in his mouth. Dinner is served at 6, and all present appear in full uniform. The meal is comparatively simple and only four kinds of wine are served. By 9 o'clock, however, everybody feels extremely jovial, and songs and stories enliven the hours until midnight. The Kaiser is fond of good company and never retires until the last man is ready to go.

Two men, one of them wearing a mask, entered the grocery store of Charles Dorman, at Hamilton, Ill., Tuesday night and demanded money of Dorman. The latter said: "I'll give it to you?" and reached for his money drawer. The villains, taking the action to be one of self-defense, fired at Dorman, one bullet crashing into his mouth and making a dangerous if not fatal wound. The ruffians fled with the booty. Dorman was cared for, and a vigilance committee is hunting for the guilty men.

The generally accepted theory that a warm summer follows a cold winter, and vice versa, has been examined by Science with the aid of temperature records made in the same place, under the same conditions, twice a day for 40 years. Science cannot find any rule on the subject, and comes to the conclusion that no estimate can be formed in regard to the character of a coming season merely by knowing the character of the past season of any greater value than could be gained by mere guessing.

The Boulangist throw the onus of their defeat on Deputy Turquet, who insisted that General Boulanger contest over four hundred cantons. They hold that the General should have become a candidate only in districts where his political strength was sufficient to warrant hope of success. The Government is more active than ever in the work of getting rid of Boulangist office-holders. The Mayors of Rennes, Autraino and Treignac, all Boulangists, have been ousted.

Lord Randolph Churchill recommended in his speech at Birmingham last night as a final solution of the Irish question an imperial loan of not less than £100,000,000 to enable tenants to buy their holdings, the local bodies controlling the rate-collected revenues to become security for the payment of the loan. He pointed out that this scheme made it necessary that Ireland remain under the Imperial Parliament.

The "Congress of Hypnotism" will assemble in the hospital of the Hotel Dieu, near Notre Dame, Paris, on August 8, and will continue until the twelfth of this month. Doctors of eminence from every capital in Europe—including Berlin—will attend, and will be initiated into the mysterics of hypnotism, as practiced in Paris by Dr. Charcot and other famous professors of the strange science.

The other day the plough of a peasant in the island of Gothland unearthed a valuable treasure in the shape of two large spiral armlets, a buckle, and a long bar used in payment, all of solid silver, together with nearly 400 silver coins. Some of the coins were Anglo-Saxon, and bore the effigy of King Ethelred. The others were German and Cufic coins.

"A gentleman called at the office last night," says the New-Haven News of July 30, "to learn the location of that cotton-mill in a Massachusetts town mentioned in an editorial yesterday as being for sale for less than the cost of the water power. He had a customer in the South for the machinery. The significance of this does not need pointing out."

A company of 300 artists has left Madrid for Paris, where they will co-operate in the tableaux at the Spanish festivals. A large corps de ballet, the entire orchestra of the Theatre Royal at Madrid, 150 picked Andalusians in their national costumes, guitarists, mandolinists, students and others are among them.

The railway up Mount Vesuvius has been reopened for traffic. Six months ago it was nearly destroyed by malicious Vesuvian guides, who found that the line considerably dimished their profits. However, the road and stock have been throughly repaired, and fresh engines and station accommodation added.

Edward B. Cassidy, driver of a United States mail wagon in Boston, was taken before Commissioner Hallett, yesterday, charged with stealing a letter from a pouch. It was in evidence that the defendant was seen to throw a letter away on Green-street. He was held in $500 bail for trial in September.

The Delaware Game Protective Association will endeavor to secure 4,000 quail for distribution throughout that State.

The New-York World says that Boulanger is fully convinced that the recent balloting in France was not a General election.

Mayor Fitler, of Philadelphia, will entertain President Harrison at his Long Branch cottage some time this month.

Ristics, who has so long been a central figure in Servian politics and intrigue, has been stricken with apoplexy.

The Italian Government has directed that a battalion leave Massowah and occupy Asmara, in northern Abyssinia.

The Cincinnati saloon-keepers arrested on Sunday for keeping their places open have furnished bonds for trial.

Asbury Park, N. J., horses are being knocked down by shocks from the rails of the electric street railway.

The name of the post office at Key East, N. J., has been changed to the euphonious title of Avon-by-the-Sea.

Firebugs made an attempt to burn the boarding-house of Albert Smith at Duquesne, Pa., yesterday.

Two French men-of-war have been ordered to Crete.

On Wall-Street To-Day.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 1.—There was the usual dullness in the stock market this morning, only Reading, Atchison, Lead, North-Western and St. Paul showing any special animation. First prices were generally ⅛ to ⅜ per cent. above last night's closing figures and in the early trading further slight gains were scored though, except in North-Western and Lead, which rose ⅜ per cent. each, the improvement was insignificant. Intense dullness became the conspicuous feature of the market and a fractional recession which extended to all portions of the list followed and most stocks retired to a shade below the opening prices. At 11 o'clock the market was dull and barely steady.

FROM FREEMAN EXCHANGES

BRIGHT JOURNALISTIC NOTES FROM NEAR-BY BRAIN WORKSHOPS.

What Sundry Reporters Write About And What Editors of Esteemed Contemporaries Are Pleased to Publish These Trying "Muggy Days" Along the Hudson and Inland.

What is news in mid-summer, and a wet mid-summer at that? Well, here is some from esteemed exchanges of THE FREEMAN:

Columbia "Compliments" Dutchess.

[From the Hudson Republican.]

That comfort flows from ignorance was oddly impressed upon a News-Press reporter when on a recent visit in the Fishkill Mountains. He stopped at a low hut in the hills. The exterior bore the imprint of poverty. A door stood hospitably open, and a glance inside revealed an old woman clad in frayed calico, smoking a pipe black with age. "How far is it to Fishkill Landing?" asked the reporter as the woman opened her eyes to his in dull interest. "Dunno," was the apatuetic reply. "Will you tell me where the main road is?" An answer similar in purpose to the other was the result. The woman had heard of Fishkill Landing in a vague sort of a way, but she did not know what a steamboat or a railroad is, had lived all her life in the little cabin which she now occupies, was never married but had several children, at that time out in the woods burning charcoal with the "old man." "We un's agreed to jine," briefly explained her relations with the "old man." She had never seen a cook stove, kitchen appliances, did not know the Bible, and was altogether profoundly ignorant of the pleasures and comforts of civilization. In her dirty old pipe, filled with home-grown tobacco, she seemed to find a recompense for living far more alluring than any the great broad world about her could offer.—Poughkeepsie News-Press.

There may lurk somewhere within Columbia County some low-down specimens of humanity, but none quite as ignorant and brutish as the Dutchess County "find" mentioned. There is evidently a field for missionary work—the Fishkill Mountains.

To the foregoing THE FREEMAN may add: Hon. John I. Platt, Editor of the Poughkeepsie Eagle, you allow certain of your employes to throw mud at Kingston City and at Ulster County generally. Perhaps there is a lesson in the foregoing paragraph. "People who live in glass houses should not throw stones."

Concerning Hudson River Boats.

[From the Albany Post.]

According to Captain John Dunbar the following boats commenced running between Albany and Catskill in the following years:

1835—Advocate, Captain William Allen.
1837—Rockland, Captain William Allen.
1842—American Eagle, Captain George H. Power.
1844—Hope, Captain William Allen.
1849—Shepard Knapp, Captain Holmes.
1852—Peter G. Coffin, Captain Holmes.
1861—City of Hudson, Captain Stranahan, and while the City of Hudson was at war the steamboats that were in its place were the following: Red Jacket, Chickopee and Martin, Captain Stranahan. After the war, City of Hudson, up to the present time, 1889. Steamboat General, Captain Charles R. Hitchcock.

All the Captains referred to above are dead except Captains George H. Power and Hitchcock.

Liquor Problems at Delhi and Walton.

[From the Delaware Republican.]

Liquor circles in Delhi and Walton are considerably stirred up over some developments made by detectives from abroad who seem to have been investigating the problem how it is that "there's just as much liquor drank where they have no license as where they have license." And those who have been indulging in "ways that are dark" don't seem to enjoy the situation. A little work of this kind is likely to be much more effective in the suppression of drunkenness than voting or shooting in the air with a gun, and ammunition paid for by the liquor dealers, and warranted to injure only temperance men and measures.

Saluting the Mary Powell.

[From the Newburgh Journal.]

It has been the custom for years to fire a salute morning and evening as a greeting to the Mary Powell from a cannon placed on the knoll in front of "The Cornell," situated under the shadows of old Storm King, from which point is obtained one of the grandest views in America. Missing the accustomed boom of the cannon this week, inquiry brings out the fact that some one who evidently thought themselves annoyed had stolen it on Sunday evening last. However, the spirited owner of "The Cornell," Mrs. E. T. C. Baird, is not to be daunted by this, and a new and larger cannon will soon speak out a welcome to the Queen of the Hudson and other steamers.

The "Summer Girl."

The Port-Jervis Gazette thus "enthuses" over the "summer girl:" "Nothing more 'fetching'—to use that recently coined expression—can be imagined than the dress this season of the 'summer girl.' The tennis craze gives her plenty of scope to appear in striking colors, and, as she flutters by, a bird of brilliant plumage, more than one masculine face turns back to gaze at her in undisguised admiration. From the region of her bangs, where perches a saucy-looking cap, clear down to the tips of her yellow-colored shoes, her toilet is picturesque enough to make even the plainest girl a pretty object to look at."

Drinking Under Difficulties.

[From the Fishkill Standard.]

It is said to be a not uncommon occurrence at the lock-up in this village for prisoners to be supplied with whiskey in the following ingenious manner: A friend outside, supplied with a big bottle to which a long rubber tube is attached, will stand under a window, and, throwing the tube up so that the one inside can get hold of it, supplies the stimulant, while the one inside draws on his end of the tube. It is identical in operation with nursing the baby from a bottle. In this way any number of prisoners can get a drink by the connivance of friends. It has been seen done by the neighbors quite frequently.

A Mother's Discovery.

[From the Catskill Mail.]

The two-year-old son of Mrs. L. Barton, of Chatham, was drowned in that village on Wednesday afternoon by falling into a spring at the rear of the house, where a barrel had been sunk into the ground and in which was three or four feet of water. As soon as the child was missed its mother made a search for it, and the water not being clear in the spring, she took a broom and was horrified on bringing to the surface the dead body of her infant.

Poughkeepsie's "Vigilant Police."

[From the Poughkeepsie News-Press.]

In a fight in Pine-street on Saturday night a man named Rounds, who once belonged to the Salvation Army, was severely beaten by two men. The men fought from Market-street down the whole length of Pine-street, and shouts of murder filled the night to the terror of the neighbors. When the fight was ended and the principals had gone away a delegation from the police station marched through the street, but no arrests were made.

S. W. Miles' Foolish Act.

[From the Middletown Argus.]

S. W. Miles, a former resident of Milesville, Sullivan County, where he was engaged in the tanning business, and who was Supervisor of the town of Fremont, who of late has resided at Deposit, attempted to commit suicide, at his residence there, Thursday morning, by shooting himself in the head. The wound is serious, but not necessarily fatal.

A "Puff" for a Show.

[From the Gilboa Monitor.]

Uncle Tom and his cabin have gone. Little Eva, of course, is in Heaven, and it would be a great relief to a suffering public if the entire aggregation had accompanied her.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE PERFECTION NOZZLE-HOLDER.

A trial took place in this City last evening of interest to all firemen and anyone else who takes any interest in fire matters. It was a new invention for handling fire streams and was given by Mr. Robinson, of Samuel Eastman & Company, East-Concord, N. H., near John P. Derrenbacher's store. By the arrangement exhibited, one man could, without the least exertion, direct the stream in any direction desired, under a pressure of 150 pounds, where it takes now from four to six men. One length of leather hose was used, which, by the way, had been in service 20 years and had been condemned for fire service. One finger was all that was required to change the stream in any direction, and a small boy about 10 years old held it with ease. A rod which extends to the ground, takes all the reaction of the water and all the weight off the firemen, all that is required of him being to direct the stream. A short reducer and nozzle is used instead of a long discharge pipe, throwing a much better fire stream and putting the water a much greater distance. It is also better adapted for fires in buildings than the common pipe. It was pronounced by all who saw it to be the most perfect arrangement of the kind ever seen here, and just the thing for use in any Fire Department that wants to keep up to the times.

That Tired Feeling

Is experienced by almost everyone at this season and many people resort to Hood's Sarsaparilla to drive away the languor and exhaustion. The blood laden with impurities which have been accumulating for months, moves sluggishly through the veins the mind fails to think quickly, and the body is still slower to respond. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just what is needed. It purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood, makes the head clear, creates an appetite, overcomes that tired feeling, tones the nervous system, and imparts new strength and vigor to the whole body.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"My appetite was poor, I could not sleep, had headache a great deal, pains in my back, my bowels did not move regularly. Hood's Sarsaparilla in a short time did me so much good that I feel like a new man. My pains and aches are relieved, my appetite improved. I say to others who need a good medicine, try Hood's Sarsaparilla and see." GEORGE F. JACKSON, Roxbury Station, Conn.

Makes the Weak Strong.

"For years I was sick every spring, but last year took Hood's Sarsaparilla and have not seen a sick day since." G. W. SLOAN, Milton, Mass.

"I take Hood's Sarsaparilla as a spring tonic, and I recommend it to all who have that miserable tired feeling." C. PARMELEE, 349 Bridge-street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Purifies the Blood.

"I have taken not quite a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and must say it is one of the best medicines for giving an appetite, purifying the blood and regulating the digestive organs, that I ever heard of. It did me a great deal of good." MRS. N. A. STANLEY Canastota, N. Y.

Real Estate Note—That Shooting Accident—Information of Interest to Hunters—One Man Who Imbibed Frequently—Potatoes Rotting in the Ground—That Steam Roller.

The hunting season is at hand. A number of Kingston City woodcock hunters started out to-day to shoot birds. They said that owing to the wet weather, woodcock were "scattered." Because of the many mistakes so often made in the publishing of game laws by newspapers, THE FREEMAN herewith publishes in condensed form laws that affect Ulster County and vicinity:

No person shall hunt, kill, chase nor take alive any wild deer in any part of this State save only from August 15 to November 16. Deer cannot be pursued with dogs except from Septemper 1 to October 20.

No person shall kill any wild duck, goose or brant between May 1 and September 1. No gun can be used except such as are habitually raised at arm's length and fired from the shoulder. Wild fowls cannot be shot from any vessel propelled by steam or sails, and no floating battery or device shall be used for the purpose of decoying at a greater distance than 20 rods from the shore.

No person shall kill quail between January 1 and November 1. Hare or rabbit between February 1 and November 1, which proviso does not apply to occupants or owners of nurseries or orchards.

It is again stated that certain amendments have been made to Chapter 245, General School Laws of this State, changing the time of holding the annual school meeting, and also alterating the date on which the school year is to close. It provides that school meetings shall hereafter be held on the first Tuesday in August instead of the last Tuesday of that month, at 7:30 instead of 7 o'clock. It also provides that the school year shall close upon July 25, instead of August 20. The school reports this year will be made to conform to the change. In all school districts in Ulster County and all counties along the Hudson River, except Westchester, in which the number of school age exceeds 300, District Officers must be elected by ballot on the Wednesday next after the first Tuesday in August, between the hours of 12 o'clock noon and 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The New-York World of to-day says:

This has been a most peculiar season from a meteorological standpoint. Whether the spots on the sun can account for the stormy features of the year, or whether the peculiar conjunction of the planets is responsible, is for cranks to determine. The fact remains that here in the East there have been more cyclones, cloudbursts, floods and disasters than are at all usual or welcome. It will be a great thing for humanity when science can not only predict but control the weather.

By the way, didn't the World try to throw mud at the statement printed in THE FREEMAN, the other day, that sun spots had been seen here. Colonel Cockerill and News Editor Chambers are forgiven; but don't let it occur again!

Owing to the prevalent dampness, when an electric button in the Uptown Post-Office is "touched," for the purpose of calling a clerk, it remains depressed and the bell continues to ring until some one pulls the button back in place. At times all the bells are ringing, as if "possessed."

In "old times" there was a "hue and cry" Down-town when the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company announced its intention of putting steam in use on its docks here to hoist coal. It was said the force of laborers would be decreased. The result was the force was nearly doubled. "He who runs may read."

Three lots, 50x150 feet, part of the estate of William VanAken, situated on Washington-avenue, were sold at Executor's sale Wednesday. W. Scott Gillispie, Peter Aldridge and Frank Thompson each purchased a lot. Two lots brought $580 each; the other $575.

A large cess-pool within a few feet of the cistern into which that "new steam roller of ours" tumbled yesterday, is the cause of some apprehension. It is also feared that cess pools may cave in under the weight of the roller aforesaid.

The first "office" used by the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company Down-town was a room in an old stone farm house which stood on the site where "Clinton Hall and Hotel" were erected. The next office was built of stone.

John Rich, a teamster, employed at the stone yard of Julius Osterhoudt, Wilbur, one day this week hit his head against a descending sand-tub, and was slightly injured. The story that he was badly hurt is nonsense.

The accident to "that steam roller of ours" was hailed with delight by the members of the "United Order of the Sons of Rest." They were present in force and volunteered advice to the Street Superintendent.

A Marbletown farmer who was in town to-day said that out of six bushels of potatoes that he had dug on a field on his farm nearly half were rotten. The cause, he said, was "too much rain."

A test of a nozzle for use of Fire Department was made by Chief Engineer Derrenbacher at Derrenbacher's Corners last evening. The test, it is said, was satisfactory.

TWO ACCIDENTS ON THE D. & H. CANAL

Propeller Sammy Cornell Breaks its Wheel and Boat No. 193 Sinks.

Wednesday was an eventful day on the Delaware & Hudson Canal between Eddyville and Creek Locks. The water was so high in the Upper Creek that the propeller Sammy Cornell was used to tow boats between those places. While engaged in this work its wheel broke and the propeller Ettie Wright was substituted in its place. While Boat No. 193 was being towed it ran on a rock, stove a hole into its bottom and sunk. The wreck obstructed navigation at that point. An attempt was made to-day to raise the boat.

The lighter Brittania is undergoing repairs at the Marvel shipyard, Newburgh.

That Whirlwind.

The Poughkeepsie News-Press says:

Ulster County stories of stoves, oak trees and cattle being carried miles by the cyclone that ravished Bayly's Gap on Tuesday are coming along with a rush. The truth is that the force of the wind was spent on the mountain at Pancake Hollow. If it had not been so spent a wide swath would have been cut through Highland village, which was directly in the cyclone's path.

THE FREEMAN said this last evening:

Eye-witnesses say that if the spur of the Marlborough Mountains had not broken the force of the gale, the entire village of Centerville would have been swept away.

The News Press when it refers to Ulster County storms, it is presumed refers to the daily newspaper of Ulster County—THE FREEMAN. Editor Homen will please note in his usual accurate way.

The storm also struck the northern part of Dutchess County, destroying fences and uprooting trees. All the streams in Dutchess County are heavily swollen and crops are damaged.

A Dog Worth Owning.

NEWS FROM POINTS FAR AND NEAR.

Tidings in Brief that the Telegraph, Cable and Mail Have Brought.

Emperor William of Germany combines business with pleasure on his yacht. He is "on deck" at 8 o'clock in the morning, and spends the day in eating, smoking, writing and talking. He paces up and down with a telescope under his arm and a poor cigar in his mouth. Dinner is served at 6, and all present appear in full uniform. The meal is comparatively simple and only four kinds of wine are served. By 9 o'clock, however, everybody feels extremely jovial, and songs and stories enliven the hours until midnight. The Kaiser is fond of good company and never retires until the last man is ready to go.

Two men, one of them wearing a mask, entered the grocery store of Charles Dorman, at Hamilton, Ill., Tuesday night and demanded money of Dorman. The latter said: "I'll give it to you?" and reached for his money drawer. The villains, taking the action to be one of self-defense, fired at Dorman, one bullet crashing into his mouth and making a dangerous if not fatal wound. The ruffians fled with the booty. Dorman was cared for, and a vigilance committee is hunting for the guilty men.

The generally accepted theory that a warm summer follows a cold winter, and vice versa, has been examined by Science with the aid of temperature records made in the same place, under the same conditions, twice a day for 40 years. Science cannot find any rule on the subject, and comes to the conclusion that no estimate can be formed in regard to the character of a coming season merely by knowing the character of the past season of any greater value than could be gained by mere guessing.

The Boulangist throw the onus of their defeat on Deputy Turquet, who insisted that General Boulanger contest over four hundred cantons. They hold that the General should have become a candidate only in districts where his political strength was sufficient to warrant hope of success. The Government is more active than ever in the work of getting rid of Boulangist office-holders. The Mayors of Rennes, Autraino and Treignac, all Boulangists, have been ousted.

Lord Randolph Churchill recommended in his speech at Birmingham last night as a final solution of the Irish question an imperial loan of not less than £100,000,000 to enable tenants to buy their holdings, the local bodies controlling the rate-collected revenues to become security for the payment of the loan. He pointed out that this scheme made it necessary that Ireland remain under the Imperial Parliament.

The "Congress of Hypnotism" will assemble in the hospital of the Hotel Dieu, near Notre Dame, Paris, on August 8, and will continue until the twelfth of this month. Doctors of eminence from every capital in Europe—including Berlin—will attend, and will be initiated into the mysterics of hypnotism, as practiced in Paris by Dr. Charcot and other famous professors of the strange science.

The other day the plough of a peasant in the island of Gothland unearthed a valuable treasure in the shape of two large spiral armlets, a buckle, and a long bar used in payment, all of solid silver, together with nearly 400 silver coins. Some of the coins were Anglo-Saxon, and bore the effigy of King Ethelred. The others were German and Cufic coins.

"A gentleman called at the office last night," says the New-Haven News of July 30, "to learn the location of that cotton-mill in a Massachusetts town mentioned in an editorial yesterday as being for sale for less than the cost of the water power. He had a customer in the South for the machinery. The significance of this does not need pointing out."

A company of 300 artists has left Madrid for Paris, where they will co-operate in the tableaux at the Spanish festivals. A large corps de ballet, the entire orchestra of the Theatre Royal at Madrid, 150 picked Andalusians in their national costumes, guitarists, mandolinists, students and others are among them.

The railway up Mount Vesuvius has been reopened for traffic. Six months ago it was nearly destroyed by malicious Vesuvian guides, who found that the line considerably dimished their profits. However, the road and stock have been throughly repaired, and fresh engines and station accommodation added.

Edward B. Cassidy, driver of a United States mail wagon in Boston, was taken before Commissioner Hallett, yesterday, charged with stealing a letter from a pouch. It was in evidence that the defendant was seen to throw a letter away on Green-street. He was held in $500 bail for trial in September.

Two French men-of-war have been ordered to Crete.

On Wall-Street To-Day.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 1.—There was the usual dullness in the stock market this morning, only Reading, Atchison, Lead, North-Western and St. Paul showing any special animation. First prices were generally ⅛ to ⅝ per cent. above last night's closing figures and in the early trading further slight gains were scored though, except in North-Western and Lead, which rose ⅝ per cent. each, the improvement was insignificant. Intense dullness became the conspicuous feature of the market and a fractional recession which extended to all portions of the list followed and most stocks retired to a shade below the opening prices. At 11 o'clock the market was dull and barely steady.

FROM FREEMAN EXCHANGES

BRIGHT JOURNALISTIC NOTES FROM NEAR-BY BRAIN WORKSHOPS.

What Sundry Reporters Write About And What Editors of Esteemed Contemporaries Are Pleased to Publish These Trying "Muggy Days" Along the Hudson and Inland.

What is news in mid-summer, and a wet mid-summer at that? Well, here is some from esteemed exchanges of THE FREEMAN:

Columbia "Compliments" Dutchess.

[From the Hudson Republican.]

That comfort flows from ignorance was oddly impressed upon a News-Press reporter when on a recent visit in the Fishkill Mountains. He stopped at a low hut in the hills. The exterior bore the imprint of poverty. A door stood hospitably open, and a glance inside revealed an old woman clad in frayed calico, smoking a pipe black with age. "How far is it to Fishkill Landing?" asked the reporter as the woman opened her eyes to his in dull interest. "Dunno," was the apatuetic reply. "Will you tell me where the main road is?" An answer similar in purpose to the other was the result. The woman had heard of Fishkill Landing in a vague sort of a way, but she did not know what a steamboat or a railroad is, had lived all her life in the little cabin which she now occupies, was never married but had several children, at that time out in the woods burning charcoal with the "old man." "We un's agreed to jine," briefly explained her relations with the "old man." She had never seen a cook stove, kitchen appliances, did not know the Bible, and was altogether profoundly ignorant of the pleasures and comforts of civilization. In her dirty old pipe, filled with home-grown tobacco, she seemed to find a recompense for living far more alluring than any the great broad world about her could offer.—Poughkeepsie News-Press.

There may lurk somewhere within Columbia County some low-down specimens of humanity, but none quite as ignorant and brutish as the Dutchess County "find" mentioned. There is evidently a field for missionary work—the Fishkill Mountains.

To the foregoing THE FREEMAN may add: Hon. John I. Platt, Editor of the Poughkeepsie Eagle, you allow certain of your employes to throw mud at Kingston City and at Ulster County generally. Perhaps there is a lesson in the foregoing paragraph. "People who live in glass houses should not throw stones."

Concerning Hudson River Boats.

[From the Albany Post.]

According to Captain John Dunbar the following boats commenced running between Albany and Catskill in the following years:

1835—Advocate, Captain William Allen.
1837—Rockland, Captain William Allen.
1842—American Eagle, Captain George H. Power.
1844—Hope, Captain William Allen.
1849—Shepard Knapp, Captain Holmes.

All the Captains referred to above are dead except Captains George H. Power and Hitchcock.

Liquor Problems at Delhi and Walton.

[From the Delaware Republican.]

Liquor circles in Delhi and Walton are considerably stirred up over some developments made by detectives from abroad who seem to have been investigating the problem how it is that "there's just as much liquor drank where they have no license as where they have license." And those who have been indulging in "ways that are dark" don't seem to enjoy the situation. A little work of this kind is likely to be much more effective in the suppression of drunkenness than voting or shooting in the air with a gun, and ammunition paid for by the liquor dealers, and warranted to injure only temperance men and measures.

Saluting the Mary Powell.

[From the Newburgh Journal.]

It has been the custom for years to fire a salute morning and evening as a greeting to the Mary Powell from a cannon placed on the knoll in front of "The Cornell," situated under the shadows of old Storm King, from which point is obtained one of the grandest views in America. Missing the accustomed boom of the cannon this week, inquiry brings out the fact that some one who evidently thought themselves annoyed had stolen it on Sunday evening last. However, the spirited owner of "The Cornell," Mrs. E. T. C. Baird, is not to be daunted by this, and a new and larger cannon will soon speak out a welcome to the Queen of the Hudson and other steamers.

The "Summer Girl."

The Port-Jervis Gazette thus "enthuses" over the "summer girl:" "Nothing more 'fetching'—to use that recently coined expression—can be imagined than the dress this season of the 'summer girl.' The tennis craze gives her plenty of scope to appear in striking colors, and, as she flutters by, a bird of brilliant plumage, more than one masculine face turns back to gaze at her in undisguised admiration. From the region of her bangs, where perches a saucy-looking cap, clear down to the tips of her yellow-colored shoes, her toilet is picturesque enough to make even the plainest girl a pretty object to look at."

Drinking Under Difficulties.

[From the Fishkill Standard.]

It is said to be a not uncommon occurrence at the lock-up in this village for prisoners to be supplied with whiskey in the following ingenious manner: A friend outside, supplied with a big bottle to which a long rubber tube is attached, will stand under a window, and, throwing the tube up so that the one inside can get hold of it, supplies the stimulant, while the one inside draws on his end of the tube. It is identical in operation with nursing the baby from a bottle. In this way any number of prisoners can get a drink by the connivance of friends. It has been seen done by the neighbors quite frequently.

A Mother's Discovery.

[From the Catskill Mail.]

The two-year-old son of Mrs. L. Barton, of Chatham, was drowned in that village on Wednesday afternoon by falling into a spring at the rear of the house, where a barrel had been sunk into the ground and in which was three or four feet of water. As soon as the child was missed its mother made a search for it, and the water not being clear in the spring, she took a broom and was horrified on bringing to the surface the dead body of her infant.

Poughkeepsie's "Vigilant Police."

In a fight in Pine-street on Saturday night a man named Rounds, who once belonged to the Salvation Army, was severely beaten by two men. The men fought from Market-street down the whole length of Pine-street, and shouts of murder filled the night to the terror of the neighbors. When the fight was ended and the principals had gone away a delegation from the police station marched through the street, but no arrests were made.

S. W. Miles' Foolish Act.

[From the Middletown Argus.]

S. W. Miles, a former resident of Milesville, Sullivan County, where he was engaged in the tanning business, and who was Supervisor of the town of Fremont, who of late has resided at Deposit, attempted to commit suicide, at his residence there, Thursday morning, by shooting himself in the head. The wound is serious, but not necessarily fatal.

A "Puff" for a Show.

[From the Gilboa Monitor.]

Uncle Tom and his cabin have gone. Little Eva, of course, is in Heaven, and it would be a great relief to a suffering public if the entire aggregation had accompanied her.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE PERFECTION NOZZLE-HOLDER.

A trial took place in this City last evening of interest to all firemen and anyone else who takes any interest in fire matters. It was a new invention for handling fire streams and was given by Mr. Robinson, of Samuel Eastman & Company, East-Concord, N. H., near John P. Derrenbacher's store. By the arrangement exhibited, one man could, without the least exertion, direct the stream in any direction desired, under a pressure of 150 pounds, where it takes now from four to six men. One length of leather hose was used, which, by the way, had been in service 20 years and had been condemned for fire service. One finger was all that was required to change the stream in any direction, and a small boy about 10 years old held it with ease. A rod which extends to the ground, takes all the reaction of the water and all the weight off the firemen, all that is required of him being to direct the stream. A short reducer and nozzle is used instead of a long discharge pipe, throwing a much better fire stream and putting the water a much greater distance. It is also better adapted for fires in buildings than the common pipe. It was pronounced by all who saw it to be the most perfect arrangement of the kind ever seen here, and just the thing for use in any Fire Department that wants to keep up to the times.

That Tired Feeling

Is experienced by almost everyone at this season and many people resort to Hood's Sarsaparilla to drive away the languor and exhaustion. The blood laden with impurities which have been accumulating for months, moves sluggishly through the veins the mind fails to think quickly, and the body is still slower to respond. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just what is needed. It purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood, makes the head clear, creates an appetite, overcomes that tired feeling, tones the nervous system, and imparts new strength and vigor to the whole body.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"My appetite was poor, I could not sleep, had headache a great deal, pains in my back, my bowels did not move regularly. Hood's Sarsaparilla in a short time did me so much good that I feel like a new man. My pains and aches are relieved, my appetite improved. I say to others who need a good medicine, try Hood's Sarsaparilla and see." GEORGE F. JACKSON, Roxbury Station, Conn.

Makes the Weak Strong.

"For years I was sick every spring, but last year took Hood's Sarsaparilla and have not seen a sick day since." G. W. SLOAN, Milton, Mass.

"I take Hood's Sarsaparilla as a spring tonic, and I recommend it to all who have that miserable tired feeling." C. PARMELEE, 349 Bridge-street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Purifies the Blood.

"I have taken not quite a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and must say it is one of the best medicines for giving an appetite, purifying the blood and regulating the digestive organs, that I ever heard of. It did me a great deal of good." MRS. N. A. STANLEY Canastota, N. Y.

Real Estate Note—That Shooting Accident—Information of Interest to Hunters—One Man Who Imbibed Frequently—Potatoes Rotting in the Ground—That Steam Roller.

The hunting season is at hand. A number of Kingston City woodcock hunters started out to-day to shoot birds. They said that owing to the wet weather, woodcock were "scattered." Because of the many mistakes so often made in the publishing of game laws by newspapers, THE FREEMAN herewith publishes in condensed form laws that affect Ulster County and vicinity:

No person shall hunt, kill, chase nor take alive any wild deer in any part of this State save only from August 15 to November 16. Deer cannot be pursued with dogs except from Septemper 1 to October 20.

No person shall kill any wild duck, goose or brant between May 1 and September 1. No gun can be used except such as are habitually raised at arm's length and fired from the shoulder. Wild fowls cannot be shot from any vessel propelled by steam or sails, and no floating battery or device shall be used for the purpose of decoying at a greater distance than 20 rods from the shore.

No person shall kill quail between January 1 and November 1. Hare or rabbit between February 1 and November 1, which proviso does not apply to occupants or owners of nurseries or orchards.

Woodcock can be killed between August 1 and January 1, and black and gray squirrels between August 1 and February 1.

No person shall kill partridges except from September 1 to January 1.

Robins, meadow lark and starlings can only be killed during the months of October, November and December. Eagles, woodpecker, night hawk, yellow bird, wren, marten, oriole, or any song bird, cannot be killed at any time, except for the purpose of studying the habits or history of these birds, stuffing them as specimens, or for destroying fruit and grapes on a person's own premises.

Trout can be caught in Ulster County from May 1 to September 13.

Shooting, hunting and trapping on Sunday is prohibited.

Black bass, under the State law, weighing not less than half a pound or less than eight inches in length can be caught from May 30 to January 1. Black and Oswego bass and pike perch between May 30 and January 1.

No person shall kill, wound or trap any bird, deer, squirrel, rabbit or any other animal within the limits of any cemetery or public burying ground, or of any public park or pleasure ground, or remove the young of any such animal or the eggs of any such bird from such place under a penalty of a fine of $250 or six months imprisonment.

An act of the Board of Supervisors of Ulster County applying to the Esopus Creek is as follows:

Fishing by fair angling or trolling for any kind of fish in said waters is authorized and permitted from May 30 to December 1.

Another act contains the following:

The catching of pickerel, black or Oswego bass, or yellow perch out of the two Binnewaters in the town of Esopus during the months of December, January, February, March and April is prohibited.

No person shall catch or kill any fish except minnows, bull-heads, eels, suckers and catfish in fresh waters by any device except hook and line, except in the Wallkill River, in the County of Ulster, where suckers and eels can be caught with a single fyke, meshes not less than one inch, during the months of March, April, October and November.

It is again stated that certain amendments have been made to Chapter 245, General School Laws of this State, changing the time of holding the annual school meeting, and also alterating the date on which the school year is to close. It provides that school meetings shall hereafter be held on the first Tuesday in August instead of the last Tuesday of that month, at 7:30 instead of 7 o'clock. It also provides that the school year shall close upon July 25, instead of August 20. The school reports this year will be made to conform to the change. In all school districts in Ulster County and all counties along the Hudson River, except Westchester, in which the number of school age exceeds 300, District Officers must be elected by ballot on the Wednesday next after the first Tuesday in August, between the hours of 12 o'clock noon and 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The New-York World of to-day says:

This has been a most peculiar season from a meteorological standpoint. Whether the spots on the sun can account for the stormy features of the year, or whether the peculiar conjunction of the planets is responsible, is for cranks to determine. The fact remains that here in the East there have been more cyclones, cloudbursts, floods and disasters than are at all usual or welcome. It will be a great thing for humanity when science can not only predict but control the weather.

By the way, didn't the World try to throw mud at the statement printed in THE FREEMAN, the other day, that sun spots had been seen here. Colonel Cockerill and News Editor Chambers are forgiven; but don't let it occur again!

Owing to the prevalent dampness, when an electric button in the Uptown Post-Office is "touched," for the purpose of calling a clerk, it remains depressed and the bell continues to ring until some one pulls the button back in place. At times all the bells are ringing, as if "possessed."

In "old times" there was a "hue and cry" Down-town when the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company announced its intention of putting steam in use on its docks here to hoist coal. It was said the force of laborers would be decreased. The result was the force was nearly doubled. "He who runs may read."

Three lots, 50x150 feet, part of the estate of William VanAken, situated on Washington-avenue, were sold at Executor's sale Wednesday. W. Scott Gillispie, Peter Aldridge and Frank Thompson each purchased a lot. Two lots brought $580 each; the other $575.

A large cess-pool within a few feet of the cistern into which that "new steam roller of ours" tumbled yesterday, is the cause of some apprehension. It is also feared that cess pools may cave in under the weight of the roller aforesaid.

The first "office" used by the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company Down-town was a room in an old stone farm house which stood on the site where "Clinton Hall and Hotel" were erected. The next office was built of stone.

John Rich, a teamster, employed at the stone yard of Julius Osterhoudt, Wilbur, one day this week hit his head against a descending sand-tub, and was slightly injured. The story that he was badly hurt is nonsense.

The accident to "that steam roller of ours" was hailed with delight by the members of the "United Order of the Sons of Rest." They were present in force and volunteered advice to the Street Superintendent.

A Marbletown farmer who was in town to-day said that out of six bushels of potatoes that he had dug on a field on his farm nearly half were rotten. The cause, he said, was "too much rain."

A test of a nozzle for use of Fire Department was made by Chief Engineer Derrenbacher at Derrenbacher's Corners last evening. The test, it is said, was satisfactory.

During the trial of a law-suit in this City recently, a witness testified that he saw a resident "drink whiskey at a bar 5,500 times in three years."

Isaac Carman has been appointed Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for this District. He took possession of the office to-day.

William Schubeck, who was accidently shot by George Bennett, while at the "Kiersted pond," yesterday, is still alive.

The gymnasium of the Young Men's Catholic Literary Society will be completed in the near future.

"Eureka, Jones, I have found perpetual motion." "What is it, Brown?" "The rain."

The City Assessors will meet August 20 to hear grievances and to review the assessment roll.

Rain has prevented hundreds of men from working on brickyards in this vicinity.

Once more, it is the same old story: More rain hereabout promised for Friday.

On Friday night the members of Cornell Hose Company will hold a meeting.

HOURS OF SUMMER RECREATION.

Outings at Points Up and Down the Hudson River and in this City.

The excursion of the Spring-Street Lutheran Sunday Schools on the barge Sarah Smith to Cole's Grove, near Catskill, to-day, was largely attended. The members of the schools headed by the Rev. A. Schmidtkonz, the Pastor, and Conrad Hiltebrandt, the Superintendent, and the Pythian Band, marched from the Church to the barge.

On October 16 the members of Rapid Hose Company will make an excursion to Newburgh and participate in the annual parade and inspection of the Fire Department of that City.

The members of the Newburgh Young Men's Christian Association will make a moonlight excursion to this City on the steamboat Jacob H. Tremper on August 13.

To-day Ellenville people went on an excursion to Coney Island, via the New-York, Ontario & Western Railroad and the steamboat Mary Powell.

The members of the Down-town Young Men's Christian Association Boys' Branch will go on an outing to Legg's Mills on Saturday.

Division No. 3, Ancient Order of Hibernians, will make an excursion to Oscawana Island on Thursday, August 15.

On Tuesday evening a moonlight excursion will be given on the Hudson River, "under the management of Charles A. Anderson."

Pratt Post, G. A. R., will go on an excursion on the steamer "City of Kingston" on August 14.

The picnic of the Hauck Gymnasium Club has been postponed until Monday.

Propeller Sammy Cornell Breaks its Wheel and Boat No. 193 Sinks.

Wednesday was an eventful day on the Delaware & Hudson Canal between Eddyville and Creek Locks. The water was so high in the Upper Creek that the propeller Sammy Cornell was used to tow boats between those places. While engaged in this work its wheel broke and the propeller Ettie Wright was substituted in its place. While Boat No. 193 was being towed it ran on a rock, stove a hole into its bottom and sunk. The wreck obstructed navigation at that point. An attempt was made to-day to raise the boat.

ALONG THE DOCKS HERE.

Only six Delaware & Hudson Canal boats, laden with 810 tons of coal reached tide-water at Eddyville yesterday. The cause was an accident in the canal between Eddyville and Creek Locks.

The new steam launch Meta, owned by Commodore Bartlett, of Newburgh, is nearly ready to be launched. Its dimensions are: Length, 69 feet; beam nine feet.

The whistle of the steamboat James W. Baldwin was blown at the mouth of the Rondout Creek at 11:09 o'clock last night.

The Cornwall ferry-boat Storm King is being repaired at Marvel's shipyard, Newburgh.

The lighter Brittania is undergoing repairs at the Marvel shipyard, Newburgh.

That Whirlwind.

The Poughkeepsie News-Press says:

Ulster County stories of stoves, oak trees and cattle being carried miles by the cyclone that ravished Bayly's Gap on Tuesday are coming along with a rush. The truth is that the force of the wind was spent on the mountain at Pancake Hollow. If it had not been so spent a wide swath would have been cut through Highland village, which was directly in the cyclone's path.

THE FREEMAN said this last evening:

Eye-witnesses say that if the spur of the Marlborough Mountains had not broken the force of the gale, the entire village of Centerville would have been swept away.

The News Press when it refers to Ulster County storms, it is presumed refers to the daily newspaper of Ulster County—THE FREEMAN. Editor Homen will please note in his usual accurate way.

The storm also struck the northern part of Dutchess County, destroying fences and uprooting trees. All the streams in Dutchess County are heavily swollen and crops are damaged.

The Local Death Record.

Yesterday the funeral of George, the 10-year-old son of Frederick Stoerzer, took place, the Rev. A. Schmidtkonz officiating. The boy died of diphtheria. Three other children are ill.

The members of the Rondout Young Men's Christian Association will meet at the rooms at 2:15 o'clock to-morrow afternoon for the purpose of attending the funeral of George Deyo.

News has been received here of the death of Mrs. J. Wolff, a former resident of this City, in New-York yesterday.

George E. VanEtten, a son of Augustus VanEtten, died last night. Mr. VanEtten was 28 years of age.

Journalistic.

A. W. Lyman, who for several years has had charge of the Washington Bureau of the New-York Sun, has purchased a controlling interest in the Helena Independent, of Montana, a Democratic paper, and took possession to-day.

Does any one know of a meaner or more persistent news-thief than the Albany Argus? If so kindly send address to this office.

John A. Mason's Harlem Reporter has started a fund for the erection of a monument to Christopher Columbus.

James Gordon Bennett is once more at the helm of the New-York Herald.

The "pin-feather rooster" of the —— —— is seeking notoriety by poking his head through a fence and trying to crow. If his head continues to swell, he will not be able to pull it back through the pickets some day.

In the Church Porch.

This evening a meeting of the Society of Christian Endeavor of the Elmendorf-Street Presbyterian Church will be held.

The fund for St. George Chapel on Broadway, Newburgh, has reached $8,000.

The Rev. Dr. I. Magee has gone to the Green Mountains for a few weeks.

In Recorder's Court To-Day.

John McMahon, for assaulting Officer Gregory, was sentenced to 30 days in the Ulster County Jail.

A Dog Worth Owning.

The "day and night watch" on the excursion barge Sarah Smith is a 90-pound bulldog. The canine is not "ugly." The Captain of the barge said this morning that one day recently two children fell into the Hudson River at Barrytown. The dog rescued them.

What a Child Said.

A family "On-the-Hill," one member of which is a three-and-a-half-year-old girl, had mashed potatoes for dinner to-day. The little tot handed her mother her plate with the request to "please put toome packed potaters on it?"

Crops Injured by Rain.

The continued rains and the prevailing humidity is doing much damage to crops in Ulster and adjoining counties. Potatoes are rotting in the ground and other farm products are being more or less damaged.

To Prosecute Offenders.

It is said that Counsel for the Board of Alms Commissioners has instituted suits against certain persons for violations of the excise laws.

SUBURBAN HAPPENINGS.

THE NEWS IN 'LONG SHORE AND INLAND COUNTIES.

At Washington's Headquarters, Newburgh—A Lunatics Wanderings—What Correspondents of "The Daily Freeman" Find to Write About These Wet, Muggy Days, Etc.

THE FREEMAN desires to make this department as complete and comprehensive as possible, and to this end invites its readers in places not represented by regular correspondents to communicate news.

THE HUDSON RIVER AND INLAND.

A dispatch from Newburgh to the New-York Times reads: "The Trustees of Washington Headquarters have been presented for preservation at Headquarters a manuscript written by Colonel A. Thompson, from Fort Rensselaer, in the Mohawk Valley, dated February 24, 1783, descriptive of the failure of an expedition ordered by General Washington from his Headquarters in this City, also a copper tea-kettle that has been in constant use in one family for 125 years. It was originally the property of Mrs. Matthew Jansen, of Shawangunk."

Thomas Pollard, a Fishkill blacksmith, in attempting to "hit a man" on the Newburgh ferry-boat the other day thrust his fist through a large plate-glass in one of the boat's doors. An artery was severed in his arm. He came near bleeding to death.

Bloomingdale Jottings.

The Rev. F. M. Bogardus left town on Thursday for a three-weeks' vacation. Mr. Bogardus preached on Sunday in the Presbyterian Church at Pine Plains, of which his brother, the Rev. William H. Bogardus, is Pastor.

The Rev. James M. Compton preached in the Church here on Sunday morning. The evening service was conducted by William Bush. Mr. Compton is expected to preach here again next Sunday.

The funeral of William Decker, of Wilbur, was held here on Wednesday afternoon. The Rev. Eli Quick, of the Eddyville M. E. Church, officiated.

The Sunday School picnic which was to have been held Tuesday was postponed on account of the storm, much to the disappointment of the children.

The party held at Good Templar Hall on Thursday evening was largely attended. The Whiteport Band was present.

The funeral of George Youmans was held on Friday.

Wallkill Affairs.

Fishing in the Wallkill is excellent. Judging from the number of people passing through the streets yesterday carrying poles, half the populace must have gone fishing.

A Presbyterian clergyman, the Rev. J. Burnett, of Newburgh, preached in the lecture room of the church last Sunday. His sermon was an able one.

A festival was held at "The Plains" school house on Tuesday evening by the Christian Endeavor Society of that place.

NEWS FROM POINTS FAR AND NEAR.

Tidings in Brief that the Telegraph, Cable and Mail Have Brought.

Emperor William of Germany combines business with pleasure on his yacht. He is "on deck" at 8 o'clock in the morning, and spends the day in eating, smoking, writing and talking. He paces up and down with a telescope under his arm and a poor cigar in his mouth. Dinner is served at 6, and all present appear in full uniform. The meal is comparatively simple and only four kinds of wine are served. By 9 o'clock, however, everybody feels extremely jovial, and songs and stories enliven the hours until midnight. The Kaiser is fond of good company and never retires until the last man is ready to go.

Two men, one of them wearing a mask, entered the grocery store of Charles Dorman, at Hamilton, Ill., Tuesday night and demanded money of Dorman. The latter said: "I'll give it to you?" and reached for his money drawer. The villains, taking the action to be one of self-defense, fired at Dorman, one bullet crashing into his mouth and making a dangerous if not fatal wound. The ruffians fled with the booty. Dorman was cared for, and a vigilance committee is hunting for the guilty men.

The generally accepted theory that a warm summer follows a cold winter, and vice versa, has been examined by Science with the aid of temperature records made in the same place, under the same conditions, twice a day for 40 years. Science cannot find any rule on the subject, and comes to the conclusion that no estimate can be formed in regard to the character of a coming season merely by knowing the character of the past season of any greater value than could be gained by mere guessing.

The Boulangist throw the onus of their defeat on Deputy Turquet, who insisted that General Boulanger contest over four hundred cantons. They hold that the General should have become a candidate only in districts where his political strength was sufficient to warrant hope of success. The Government is more active than ever in the work of getting rid of Boulangist office-holders. The Mayors of Rennes, Autraino and Treignac, all Boulangists, have been ousted.

Lord Randolph Churchill recommended in his speech at Birmingham last night as a final solution of the Irish question an imperial loan of not less than £100,000,000 to enable tenants to buy their holdings, the local bodies controlling the rate-collected revenues to become security for the payment of the loan. He pointed out that this scheme made it necessary that Ireland remain under the Imperial Parliament.

The "Congress of Hypnotism" will assemble in the hospital of the Hotel Dieu, near Notre Dame, Paris, on August 8, and will continue until the twelfth of this month. Doctors of eminence from every capital in Europe—including Berlin—will attend, and will be initiated into the mysteries of hypnotism, as practiced in Paris by Dr. Charcot and other famous professors of the strange science.

The other day the plough of a peasant in the island of Gothland unearthed a valuable treasure in the shape of two large spiral armlets, a buckle, and a long bar used in payment, all of solid silver, together with nearly 400 silver coins. Some of the coins were Anglo-Saxon, and bore the effigy of King Ethelred. The others were German and Cufic coins.

"A gentleman called at the office last night," says the New-Haven News of July 30, "to learn the location of that cotton-mill in a Massachusetts town mentioned in an editorial yesterday as being for sale for less than the cost of the water power. He had a customer in the South for the machinery. The significance of this does not need pointing out."

A company of 300 artists has left Madrid for Paris, where they will co-operate in the tableaux at the Spanish festivals. A large corps de ballet, the entire orchestra of the Theatre Royal at Madrid, 150 picked Andalusians in their national costumes, guitarists, mandolinists, students and others are among them.

The railway up Mount Vesuvius has been reopened for traffic. Six months ago it was nearly destroyed by malicious Vesuvian guides, who found that the line considerably dimished their profits. However, the road and stock have been throughly repaired, and fresh engines and station accommodation added.

Edward B. Cassidy, driver of a United States mail wagon in Boston, was taken before Commissioner Hallett, yesterday, charged with stealing a letter from a pouch. It was in evidence that the defendant was seen to throw a letter away on Green-street. He was held in $500 bail for trial in September.

The Delaware Game Protective Association will endeavor to secure 4,000 quail for distribution throughout that State.

The New-York World says that Boulanger is fully convinced that the recent balloting in France was not a General election.

Mayor Fitler, of Philadelphia, will entertain President Harrison at his Long Branch cottage some time this month.

Ristics, who has so-long been a central figure in Servian politics and intrigue, has been stricken with apoplexy.

The Italian Government has directed that a battalion leave Massowah and occupy Asmara, in northern Abyssinia.

The Cincinnati saloon-keepers arrested on Sunday for keeping their places open have furnished bonds for trial.

Asbury Park, N. J., horses are being knocked down by shocks from the rails of the electric street railway.

The name of the post office at Key East, N. J., has been changed to the euphonious title of Avon-by-the-Sea.

Firebugs made an attempt to burn the boarding-house of Albert Smith at Duquesne, Pa., yesterday.

Two French men-of-war have been ordered to Crete.

On Wall-Street To-Day.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 1.—There was the usual dullness in the stock market this morning, only Reading, Atchison, Lead, North-Western and St. Paul showing any special animation. First prices were generally ⅛ to ⅜ per cent. above last night's closing figures and in the early trading further slight gains were scored though, except in North-Western and Lead, which rose ¾ per cent. each, the improvement was insignificant. Intense dullness became the conspicuous feature of the market and a fractional recession which extended to all portions of the list followed and most stocks retired to a shade below the opening prices. At 11 o'clock the market was dull and barely steady.

FROM FREEMAN EXCHANGES

BRIGHT JOURNALISTIC NOTES FROM NEAR-BY BRAIN WORKSHOPS.

What Sundry Reporters Write About And What Editors of Esteemed Contemporaries Are Pleased to Publish These Trying "Muggy Days" Along the Hudson and Inland.

What is news in mid-summer, and a wet mid-summer at that? Well, here is some from esteemed exchanges of THE FREEMAN:

Columbia "Compliments" Dutchess.

[From the Hudson Republican.]

That comfort flows from ignorance was oddly impressed upon a News-Press reporter when on a recent visit in the Fishkill Mountains. He stopped at a low hut in the hills. The exterior bore the imprint of poverty. A door stood hospitably open, and a glance inside revealed an old woman clad in frayed calico, smoking a pipe black with age. "How far is it to Fishkill Landing?" asked the reporter as the woman opened her eyes to his in dull interest. "Dunno," was the apatuetic reply. "Will you tell me where the main road is?" An answer similar in purpose to the other was the result. The woman had heard of Fishkill Landing in a vague sort of a way, but she did not know what a steamboat or a railroad is, had lived all her life in the little cabin which she now occupies, was never married but had several children, at that time out in the woods burning charcoal with the "old man." "We un's agreed to jine," briefly explained her relations with the "old man." She had never seen a cook stove, kitchen appliances, did not know the Bible, and was altogether profoundly ignorant of the pleasures and comforts of civilization. In her dirty old pipe, filled with home-grown tobacco, she seemed to find a recompense for living far more alluring than any the great broad world about her could offer.—Poughkeepsie News-Press.

There may lurk somewhere within Columbia County some low-down specimens of humanity, but none quite as ignorant and brutish as the Dutchess County "find" mentioned. There is evidently a field for missionary work—the Fishkill Mountains.

To the foregoing THE FREEMAN may add: Hon. John I. Platt, Editor of the Poughkeepsie Eagle, you allow certain of your employes to throw mud at Kingston City and at Ulster County generally. Perhaps there is a lesson in the foregoing paragraph. "People who live in glass houses should not throw stones."

Concerning Hudson River Boats.

[From the Albany Post.]

According to Captain John Dunbar the following boats commenced running between Albany and Catskill in the following years:

1835—Advocate, Captain William Allen.
1837—Rockland, Captain William Allen.
1842—American Eagle, Captain George H. Power.
1844—Hope, Captain William Allen.
1849—Shepard Knapp, Captain Holmes.
1852—Peter G. Coffin, Captain Holmes.
1861—City of Hudson, Captain Stranahan, and while the City of Hudson was at war the steamboats that were in its place were the following: Red Jacket, Chickopee and Martin, Captain Stranahan. After the war, City of Hudson, up to the present time, 1889. Steamboat General, Captain Charles R. Hitchcock.

All the Captains referred to above are dead except Captains George H. Power and Hitchcock.

Liquor Problems at Delhi and Walton.

[From the Delaware Republican.]

Liquor circles in Delhi and Walton are considerably stirred up over some developments made by detectives from abroad who seem to have been investigating the problem how it is that "there's just as much liquor drank where they have no license as where they have license." And those who have been indulging in "ways that are dark" don't seem to enjoy the situation. A little work of this kind is likely to be much more effective in the suppression of drunkenness than voting or shooting in the air with a gun, and ammunition paid for by the liquor dealers, and warranted to injure only temperance men and measures.

Saluting the Mary Powell.

[From the Newburgh Journal.]

It has been the custom for years to fire a salute morning and evening as a greeting to the Mary Powell from a cannon placed on the knoll in front of "The Cornell," situated under the shadows of old Storm King, from which point is obtained one of the grandest views in America. Missing the accustomed boom of the cannon this week, inquiry brings out the fact that some one who evidently thought themselves annoyed had stolen it on Sunday evening last. However, the spirited owner of "The Cornell," Mrs. E. T. C. Baird, is not to be daunted by this, and a new and larger cannon will soon speak out a welcome to the Queen of the Hudson and other steamers.

The "Summer Girl."

The Port-Jervis Gazette thus "enthuses" over the "summer girl:" "Nothing more 'fetching'—to use that recently coined expression—can be imagined than the dress this season of the 'summer girl.' The tennis craze gives her plenty of scope to appear in striking colors, and, as she flutters by, a bird of brilliant plumage, more than one masculine face turns back to gaze at her in undisguised admiration. From the region of her bangs, where perches a saucy-looking cap, clear down to the tips of her yellow-colored shoes, her toilet is picturesque enough to make even the plainest girl a pretty object to look at."

Drinking Under Difficulties.

[From the Fishkill Standard.]

It is said to be a not uncommon occurrence at the lock-up in this village for prisoners to be supplied with whiskey in the following ingenious manner: A friend outside, supplied with a big bottle to which a long rubber tube is attached, will stand under a window, and, throwing the tube up so that the one inside can get hold of it, supplies the stimulant, while the one inside draws on his end of the tube. It is identical in operation with nursing the baby from a bottle. In this way any number of prisoners can get a drink by the connivance of friends. It has been seen done by the neighbors quite frequently.

A Mother's Discovery.

[From the Catskill Mail.]

The two-year-old son of Mrs. L. Barton, of Chatham, was drowned in that village on Wednesday afternoon by falling into a spring at the rear of the house, where a barrel had been sunk into the ground and in which was three or four feet of water. As soon as the child was missed its mother made a search for it, and the water not being clear in the spring, she took a broom and was horrified on bringing to the surface the dead body of her infant.

Poughkeepsie's "Vigilant Police."

In a fight in Pine-street on Saturday night a man named Rounds, who once belonged to the Salvation Army, was severely beaten by two men. The men fought from Market-street down the whole length of Pine-street, and shouts of murder filled the night to the terror of the neighbors. When the fight was ended and the principals had gone away a delegation from the police station marched through the street, but no arrests were made.

S. W. Miles' Foolish Act.

[From the Middletown Argus.]

S. W. Miles, a former resident of Milesville, Sullivan County, where he was engaged in the tanning business, and who was Supervisor of the town of Fremont, who of late has resided at Deposit, attempted to commit suicide, at his residence there, Thursday morning, by shooting himself in the head. The wound is serious, but not necessarily fatal.

A "Puff" for a Show.

[From the Gilboa Monitor.]

Uncle Tom and his cabin have gone. Little Eva, of course, is in Heaven, and it would be a great relief to a suffering public if the entire aggregation had accompanied her.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE PERFECTION NOZZLE-HOLDER.

A trial took place in this City last evening of interest to all firemen and anyone else who takes any interest in fire matters. It was a new invention for handling fire streams and was given by Mr. Robinson, of Samuel Eastman & Company, East-Concord, N. H., near John P. Derrenbacher's store. By the arrangement exhibited, one man could, without the least exertion, direct the stream in any direction desired, under a pressure of 150 pounds, where it takes now from four to six men. One length of leather hose was used, which, by the way, had been in service 20 years and had been condemned for fire service. One finger was all that was required to change the stream in any direction, and a small boy about 10 years old held it with ease. A rod which extends to the ground, takes all the reaction of the water and all the weight off the firemen, all that is required of him being to direct the stream. A short reducer and nozzle is used instead of a long discharge pipe, throwing a much better fire stream and putting the water a much greater distance. It is also better adapted for fires in buildings than the common pipe. It was pronounced by all who saw it to be the most perfect arrangement of the kind ever seen here, and just the thing for use in any Fire Department that wants to keep up to the times.

That Tired Feeling

Is experienced by almost everyone at this season and many people resort to Hood's Sarsaparilla to drive away the languor and exhaustion. The blood laden with impurities which have been accumulating for months, moves sluggishly through the veins the mind fails to think quickly, and the body is still slower to respond. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just what is needed. It purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood, makes the head clear, creates an appetite, overcomes that tired feeling, tones the nervous system, and imparts new strength and vigor to the whole body.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"My appetite was poor, I could not sleep, had headache a great deal, pains in my back, my bowels did not move regularly. Hood's Sarsaparilla in a short time did me so much good that I feel like a new man. My pains and aches are relieved, my appetite improved. I say to others who need a good medicine, try Hood's Sarsaparilla and see." GEORGE F. JACKSON, Roxbury Station, Conn.

Makes the Weak Strong.

"For years I was sick every spring, but last year took Hood's Sarsaparilla and have not seen a sick day since." G. W. SLOAN, Milton, Mass.

"I take Hood's Sarsaparilla as a spring tonic, and I recommend it to all who have that miserable tired feeling." C. PARMELEE, 349 Bridge-street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Purifies the Blood.

"I have taken not quite a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and must say it is one of the best medicines for giving an appetite, purifying the blood and regulating the digestive organs, that I ever heard of. It did me a great deal of good." MRS. N. A. STANLEY Canastota, N. Y.
